Marshall Reveals Plan To Triple U. S. Forces In Europe

Six Divisions Of U.S. Troops In Europe Is Plan

Senate Committee Is Given Facts By Secretary Marshall

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Defense Secretary Marshall told Congress today that President Truman has approved sending four additional American divisions to Europe to triple U.S. forces on the continent.

The defense secretary revealed that the plan to station six divisions—between 300,000 and 400,000 men—in Europe was recommended to the president by the joint chiefs of staff. There now are the equivalent of two American divisions in Germany.

Marshall testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at the opening of hearings on the "troops to Europe" issue. He said:

"To be specific, the joint chiefs of staff have recommended to me, and I have so recommended to the president—and the president has approved—a policy with respect to our forces in Europe which looks to the maintenance by us, in Europe, of approximately six divisions of ground forces.

Four Additional Divisions

"We already have three, on occupation duty, about two divisions of ground forces. Our plans based on the recommendation of the joint chiefs of staff, therefore contemplates four additional divisions to Europe."

Four divisions would be com-

Abandoning Of Four City School Buildings Urged

Four public schools in New Castle should be abandoned as rapidly as possible because of their condition a report to the New Castle school board said Wednesday night.

The four are Lincoln-Garfield, North Street, West Side and Oak street.

The report was made by Lauren Thayer of the Thayer company, local architects who were recently commissioned to make a study of the school structures and to make recommendations in the matter of new school buildings.

Governor's Wife Is Operated Upon At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. —(INS)—Mrs. Helen Morgan Fine, 40-year-old wife of Pennsylvania's governor, underwent two operations at University hospital today for a brain injury.

The injury is believed to have been suffered when Mrs. Fine fell from a platform at a Philadelphia hotel last Oct. 31.

A spokesman for Gov. Fine at Harrisburg said her ailment was diagnosed "as an intra-cranial lesion or possible hemorrhage in the cranium caused by a possible injury."

Both operations were performed by Dr. Francis C. Grant, nationally known brain surgeon and chief neurosurgeon at the hospital. Between operations, Mrs. Fine was given a lumbal spinal puncture as a diagnostic measure.

The governor, John S. Fine, dropped important matters of state last night to accompany his sick wife on a 75-mile-an-hour emergency ambulance trip from Harrisburg Polyclinic Hospital. He kept a night-long vigil at her side.

Attaches at the hospital reported that the first operation, an exploratory procedure, was performed at 2:30 a. m. The second, a longer operation, began shortly after 10:30 a. m. The hospital said at 12:15 p. m. that "we expect to issue a bulletin in two or three hours."

Governor Dewey May Be Called

May Appear Before Senate Committee On Europe Troops

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is likely to be called as a witness in the "troops to Europe" hearings which opened today with testimony by Defense Secretary Marshall.

Senate Foreign Relations chairman Connally (D) Tex., said he is considering asking the New York governor to elaborate on his statements supporting an all-out European joint defense effort. It would be the governor's first such appearance in Washington.

Sen. George (D) Ga., ranking Democrat on Connally's committee, warned that the administration will have to come up with "hard information to meet the strong criticism of the troops program in Congress and the country."

Dewey is an Eisenhower-for-president backer as well as an advocate of extending the North Atlantic defense program to include the Middle East. He opposes the air-sea defense concept of former President Hoover and Sen. Taft (R) O.

Connally indicated he expects Hoover to be invited to testify at the hearings being held by the combined foreign relations and armed services committees.

Pittsburgh Church Is Fire Destroyed

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—(INS)—St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church, one of the oldest in the Pittsburgh diocese, was destroyed today by a fire that started in the choir loft.

Four firemen were injured fighting the six-alarm blaze which was fanned by a stiff breeze. Firemen were hampered in bringing the flames under control by low water pressure.

The church was dedicated in 1870.

Principals Of Schools In City Ask Increase

Janitors And Clerks Also Ask Board For Wage Increase

Salary increases were asked Wednesday night by public school principals, janitors and clerks when the New Castle School board held its monthly business meeting at the East street building.

The principals appeared in a body before the board with Principals S. Glenn McCracken and Fred McClure presenting the case for them. They pointed out to the board that since the adjustment of teachers' salaries, the principals' salaries are in many cases little higher than the teacher maximum.

Ask Differential

They ask that principals be given an increase of $500 per year. Director Joseph R. Hensley said that he had checked the increase in school costs for the past ten years and found the principals had been given the lowest increase, percentage wise, of the entire school system.

Janitors of the public schools appeared before the board and asked for a 20 per cent increase. They were represented by their president, Robert Sheehy.

Clerks in the system filed a letter with the board asking that they be given some consideration at this time in the matter of salary adjustments.

The budget for the school year of 1951-52 in process of being made up just now and all the groups mentioned wanted to get their petitions before the board in order that the board might be able to include any proposed increases in the new budget.

More Steel Is Reserved For Military Use

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(INS)—The government today ordered steel producers to begin immediately reserving a larger share of their production for military orders.

Increase ranging from 2 to 25 per cent of the output were ordered by the National Production authority in connection with the expanding rearmament program.

Practically all categories of steel mill products were included except for alloy steel sheet bars which were reduced 30 per cent to a level of only 5 per cent.

At the top bracket, NPA ordered producers to reserve 60 per cent of output of alloy steel tube rounds and mechanical tubing. No limitation was placed on projectile and shell quality hot rolled bars.

In another action, NPA directed producers of high tenacity rayon tire cord yarn used in parachutes to increase their military set asides from 10 to 15 per cent of output.

Speedy Action On New Taxes Is Not Likely

Johnston's Plea For Speed In Congress Doomed To Failure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Economic Stabilizer Johnston's plea for speedy action on new tax legislation appears today to be doomed to failure.

Virtually overriding his request, the House Ways and Means committee voted to broaden the scope of its public hearings to cover the entire revenue-raising field.

Republican members said this meant rejection of President Truman's request for a "quickie" 10 billion dollar tax boost, to be followed later by a 6.5 billion dollar "second installment".

See Prolonged Sessions

Committee Chairman Doughton (D) N. C., and some other Democratic members disputed this. They said that a decision on whether to tackle the 16.5 billion dollar program in one or two installments would be reached after completion of the hearings.

In any event, broadening the hearings to cover the entire 16.5 billion dollar program indicated that the committee is in for prolonged sessions before a tax bill is written.

As a result of the committee's action, secretary of the treasury Snyder is expected to be recalled for further questioning. He will probably be asked to submit his recommendations for raising the remainder of the taxes requested by the President.

Delay Action On Stadium Use Easter Morn

Permission for the use of Taggart Stadium for an Easter morning "Sunrise Service" was not definitely refused Wednesday night by the New Castle School Board, neither was it granted.

The board stood by its rule to refuse permission for any secretarian or political meetings on any school property but suggested that if the suggested sunrise service was to be joined in by all churches represented in the New Castle Ministerial Association the rule might be waived.

Originally the board received a request from the South Side Ministerial Alliance asking for permission to use the stadium. The board replied that it would consider the request if it was a request from all the churches of the ministerial association.

On Wednesday night a letter was received from the New Castle Ministerial Association "endorsing" the idea but saying nothing of participation. For this reason the school board withheld any permission.

Expect Bohlen Will Be Given Post In State Department

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen, U. S. minister to France, is expected today to be named by President Truman as counselor to the state department.

The appointment would return Bohlen, an expert on Russia, to a job he formerly held and would make him one of Secretary of State Acheson's top policy advisers.

Bohlen will replace George F. Kennan, also an expert on Russia, who will be absent from the department on a year's leave.

Bohlen has been No. 2 man in the Paris embassy since June, 1949.

Gen. Marshall, then secretary of state, took Bohlen to Moscow in 1947 and later in the same year appointed him counselor to the department.

He filled the post for almost two years before being assigned to Paris.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 15.—The newly-formed United Nations good offices committee, whose job is to try to effect a peaceful settlement of the Korean and far eastern problems, faced an extremely difficult task today.

Some observers believe the task is almost hopeless, but the committee is determined to give it "the good old college try".

Steel Industry Taken Over By Great Britain

LONDON, Feb. 15. — (INS)—Britain's three billion dollar steel industry was taken over today by the Socialist government in accordance with the steel nationalization act.

Control of steel brought half of Britain's capital investment and practically all basic industries into state hands.

The nationalization of the industry was a basic platform pledge made by Prime Minister Attlee's labor party before its election in 1945 and again in its re-election last year.

Step Fought Bitterly

The step was fought bitterly by the Conservative opposition which termed the measure "a wanton act of sabotage."

The stand of the government was expressed in a statement by a Laborite spokesmen when parliament approved the move. He said:

"One of the major purposes in nationalizing the great monopoly is that it should serve the country in peace or war, undeterred by any conflicting desire in the minds of those who run it to maximize the profits of private shareholders."

Involved in the nationalization are 92 iron and steel companies which employ 300,000 of a total of 460,000 workers in the industry. The smaller firms which aid in producing over 16 million tons of steel annually will be compelled to operate under government license.

New Crisis Is Now Faced By Attlee Regime

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Britain's Labor government was faced today with the most critical situation in its six-year rule by the unexpected decision of Winston Churchill to try to overthrow the Attlee regime on the rearmament issue.

A vote will be taken tonight on a motion of no confidence introduced yesterday in the House of Commons by the Conservative leader.

Churchill made his motion in the form of an amendment to the government rearmament measure and attacked what he called " vacillation and delay" on the part of the Labor leaders.

The government's measure calls for a three-year program to build up defenses at a cost of 13 billion dollars.

The Churchill action came as an almost shattering blow to the government which had expected the Conservatives to support the rearmament program.

Political observers interpreted the Churchill challenge as a determined attempt to oust the Laborites. It was pointed out that this is the third motion of censure placed before the House of Commons in eight days.

U.N. Forces Halt All-Out Offensive; Reds Have Huge Losses

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, Feb. 16 — (Friday) —An armored United Nations relief column plowed a path through Chinese Communist troops on Korea's central front Thursday and reached Chipyong where encircled American and French forces had been fighting Red attacks for two days and nights.

A front dispatch from International News Service War Correspondent Lee Ferrero reported that Chinese Red soldiers in the Chipyong area were "in complete flight" in an effort to break off contact.

The dispatch said that forward elements of the relief column arrived at Chipyong at 5:30 p.m. Thursday (3:30 a.m. EST) after "wading through Chinese troops."

A U.S. Eighth Army communique reported that in the Wonju area, 20 miles to the east of Chipyong, an enemy battalion overran a UN company's position in the pre-dawn darkness Thursday. A counter-attack by UN troops regained "most of the ground lost" according to the official bulletin.

Reds Take Fearful Beating

The U.S. Eighth Army said that Communists all along the fronts in central and western Korea maintained their "aggressive attitude" throughout Thursday's fighting despite the fearful beating they took Wednesday when U.N. forces halted an all-out Communist offensive for the first time in the war.

The Allied forces Wednesday turned their full firepower against a mass Red onslaught and littered the snowy battlefields with 10,288 Communist dead and wounded in the bloodiest single day of fighting in the war.

Navy Comes To Columbia's Aid

COLUMBIA, Pa., Feb. 15.—(INS)—The U. S. Navy came to the aid of water-short Columbia today.

The Philadelphia Navy yard donated four heavy-duty water pumps which were trucked into Columbia. They are being set up to pull water from beneath the Susquehanna river ice jam which wrecked the town's water works last week.

The river water will be emptied into the Columbia reservoir where it will be chlorinated before being forced into the water mains supplying the community.

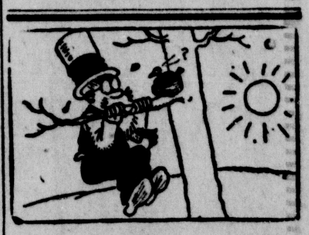

The additional pumps will supplement a similar pump put into action late yesterday.

"If this new operation comes up to expectation, I believe we will be able to pump one million gallons of water a day into the reservoir," said James Staman, water works secretary.

Dr. Galbreath Is School Speaker

Makes Address To Language Classes

A vocational interest program was initiated this week at the senior high school by the language department, when Rev. Dr. Robert F. Galbreath of the First Presbyterian church met with the sophomores to relate the advantages of using correctly the English language.

Dr. Galbreath also pointed out the social and vocational advantages of speaking or reading a foreign language.

Today, in continuance of the language week program, Mrs. Nelson, vocational program director, will act as chairman of a panel which will include; Miss Ethel Kelly, French teacher; Miss Rose Uhl, German teacher; Miss Mary VanDivort, Latin teacher; and Miss Dorothy Edmunds, Spanish teacher, and which will discuss the respective language advantages with the students, in order to help the students plan their vocational future.

Friday, for the first time in the high school, students will be permitted to visit other classes, classes that may help them choose a vocation.

Former Local Pastors Organize New Camp Meeting Association

Word has been received here that two former New Castle pastors and a former Ellwood City passtor have organized new camp meeting associations for the Christion and Missionary Alliance in northwestern Pennsylvania. The camp is located at Lake Pleasant, near Union City, Pa.

Rev. Russell Schillinger, Greenville, formerly of the Hoover Heights of South New Castle, is temporary president and chairman of the association, while Rev. Harold J. Sutton, Meadville, formerly of the local Primitive Methodist church, is secretary. Rev. Wilmer Heffer, former pastor of the Ellwood City Alliance church, is a member of the organizing committee.

Previously two camp meetings were held by the group on the property which was rented, but since been purchased by the association which plans to have a regular camp there this year from August 3 to 12. The property consists of about 55 acres located high on a plateau in Erie county. It has a dining hall for 200 and dormitory space for 70. Future plans call for cabins, cottages, tents and trailer court and possible construction of a tabernacle.

Schweinsberg Gets Unique Valentine

E. Gene Schweinsberg received a unique valentine, one which required scissors and paste, yesterday. It was composed of "cut outs" from comic pages. It shows a snow-plow being held up by a horse-drawn sled, the operator of which instructs the sled to get out of the way. The valentine carries other "caricatures", all of a favorable nature of various attaches of the Streets department. The valentine referred to the deluges of snow and ice which have fallen since November 24.

PEACE COMMITTEE FACING DIFFICULT TASK

Sweden and Dr. Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico. The latter has been ill of an ear infection and, depending upon the speed of his recovery, the group may not meet officially until Tuesday.

Observers believe there is a possibility the committee will ask Mao to send a representative to Lake Success for informal conversations. Such a move would compel Mao to show whether his ire at the United Nations for having branded Red China as the aggressor in Korea has cooled off sufficiently to recognize the committee. At any rate, it would put Mao on record.

Belligerent Attitude

Ever since the U. N. formally labeled communist China as the aggressor, Mao has taken a belligerent attitude toward the world organization and has broken off all indirect contacts with delegations which had been striving to bring about a cease-fire.

There is also the possibility that the good offices committee may give consideration to the advisability of sending a representative to Peiping to talk with the Chinese Reds about a peaceful negotiated settlement of the far east issues.

In this connection the name of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Nobel peace prize winner, has been mentioned.

Dr. Bunche, whose normal U. N. job is director for trusteeships, won international prominence and the 1950 Nobel prize for his mediation in promoting armistice out of war in Palestine.

SIX U.S. DIVISIONS IN EUROPE IS PLAN

posed of approximately 75,000 combat troops, but with attached service and support units the total number sent would probably be between 200,000 and 300,000.

The number of U. S. troops in Europe at present is approximately 100,000, although less than 40,000 are counted as combat effectives.

Marshall said:

"As Gen. Eisenhower pointed out in his recent testimony here, the United States forces will constitute only a minor portion of the proposed integrated forces — the major portion being furnished by the Western European nations.

"Because of the great amount of discussion which has centered on the subject of ground forces, I have obtained the express permission of the president to discuss with you the specific strength which the U. S. has planned to maintain in Europe in the present emergency."

Can Be Defended

Marshall expressed firm confidence that western Europe can be defended. Asked by Senators if he considered "It a hopeless task," the secretary promptly replied:

"No, sir I don't. I go back to 1940. I think it was far more hopeless then than it is today."

The defense secretary foresaw "long tension, perhaps a decade" facing the U. S. "if the Lord is good to us and we are spared an early outbreak."

He said there is no present plan to send more American troops to Europe above the six divisions being discussed, and added that during the "tension" there may be times when a division or two could be withdrawn.

In reply to questions by Sen. Wiley (R) Wis., Marshall remarked that just "the other day we sent 2,000 anti-aircraft men" to Europe, and "we are establishing air fields in a good many places around the world."

REPORT ENEMY FLEEING IN CHIPYONG AREA

air power were poured into the massive drive of Chinese and North Korean Reds and stopped the attack cold. It was the first time in the war UN forces have thrown back an all-out massed attack by the enemy.

The Eighth Army also announced that the United Nations had abandoned Kimpo Airfield 15 miles northwest of Seoul as "useless" because of great damage. A spokesman said enemy pressure had nothing to do with the decision to abandon the field.

The surrounded Americans and French at Chipyong held positions on a low ridge encircling the town and less than a mile from it. In all directions were high snowy mountains from which the Reds launched mass attacks.

Position Restored

One enemy onslaught managed to penetrate a company position in the circle but a swift counter attack restored the position.

The besieged UN troops held the Communists off through two nights with artillery barrages. The entire area was lit by flares throughout the night to reduce the danger of sneak Chinese attacks.

Bitter fighting was reported throughout Thursday morning northeast of Kyongan, a small town 29 miles to the southwest of Chipyong, where the Communists counterattacked at dawn and continued attacking at close quarters with rifles, mortars, machine guns and grenades.

UN air power was brought to bear on the Reds all across the peninsula as the Fifth Air Force chalked up a record number of 696 combat sorties up to 5 p.m. (3 a.m. Thursday EST), the attacks were directed against enemy troops and vehicles in a widespread area.

Report 10,993 Enemy Casualties

Wednesday the U.N. forces loosed their full fire power against the massive Red attacks in central and western Korea and littered the snowy battle fields with 10,933 enemy dead and wounded.

The Eighth Army said 148 of the enemy were killed for each of our own men lost in Wednesday's fighting.

Devastating Allied artillery fire pummeled the Reds all along the front, building a firewall which was reinforced with a withering fire from the infantry.

As in Thursday's attacks the surrounded forces at Chipyong bore the brunt of the all-out attacks along with American and South Korean forces near Wonju. These two towns lie 20 miles apart on the east-west railroad in central Korea.

The Reds started their power blows against Chipyong Tuesday night and did not turn back until an hour-long slaughter had cut down the bulk of their forces.

Halt Wave After Wave

After that they launched wave after wave of frantic, bugle-blowing, drum-beating charges against the town in unsuccessful efforts to crack the Allied lines.

Troops within the perimeter were moved from one section to another to plug up weak spots and the lines held.

C-119 flying boxcars kept the embattled Frence and Americans supplied with food and ammunition and helicopters evacuated the wounded.

At Wonju American artillery caught a five column-Communist force in a draw six miles northwest of the town as they were crosssing a small river Wednesday morning.

The artillerymen poured a slaughtering saturation barrage into the area for an hour and then slammed high explosive and proximity fuse shells on the trapped Reds for five more hours.

Appelman Women's Committee Plans For Faith Luncheon

Members of the Appelman Evangelistic Crusade Women's committee met in the City Mission on Wednesday afternoon, when further plans were broached for their "Faith" luncheon which will be an event of February 21 at the Y. W. C. A.

The luncheon meeting will bring together women of all churches of the city as they work together in the interest of the coming revival services which is known as the Christ for Greater New Castle campaign. The luncheon will be from 12 to 1 p. m. and will be featured by a special speaker, and vocal music. No admission will be charged for the dinner event, but a free will offering is to be received to defray the cost.

Women desiring to be in attendance at the dinner may leave their names at the campaign headquarters, located in room 205 of the Castleton hotel. Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, directed the Wednesday session when an hour of prayer opened the service. Group singing was enjoyed. The women will canvass the city in the interest of the coming campaign.

Family Party Of Tall Cedars Has Been Postponed

Announcement was made today by Grand Tall Cedar C. Paul Shoaff, that the family party which had been scheduled for Friday evening, has been postponed until a later date.

Arrangements for the event will be announced to the membership in the near future, it is stated.

Pa Newc Observes

trict have operated more this winter as blinkers than they have as stop and go lights, Pa Newc has observed. The lights at present are operating normally, one of the few times this winter they have been operating on red and green signals.

* * *

Intersection of Route 19 and Route 422 at Dixie Inn, just over the Lawrence county line, is well marked so that strange motorists will not get confused, Pa Newc observes. Route 19 markers, bear the words either south or north on them in order that motorists may not start out in the wrong direction as they use the cloverleaf to get from Route 422 to Route 19.

* * *

Most motorists have given up the idea of getting the family car washed until the present season is over, it seems to Pa Newc, as many cars about the city already contain several months of winter's dirt which could just about be dug rather than washed from the cars. Motorists, for safety sake, though should see that their windshields and other glass on the cars are kept clean so that the vision is not blurred and accidents are prevented.

* * *

Advertisements in The News are widely read Pa Newc discovered by experience this morning. Today was Dollar Day in the city, and hoping to spear a couple of shirts at reduced prices as advertised by a downtown business house, he arrived at the store at 9:30 when the doors were opened. The inexperienced shopper was about swept from his feet and nearly crushed between counters. Needless to say, he returned empty handed, letting the women folk battle over the purchases.

* * *

Disappearance of much of the snow and ice from the streets of the city is revealing that a job of large proportions is confronting the city and state in repairing street surfaces in the city. Weather conditions of the past three months have administered a terrific beating to street surfaces here, and many of the streets are in need of attention.

ABANDONING OF FOUR CITY SCHOOL BUILDINGS URGED

port says so, where a school should be abandoned, the report says so.

The report lists the ten elementary buildings in three groups. In group one are Arthur McGill, Rose Avenue, and Highland Avenue schools. In these buildings only repairs and improvements are suggested.

In group two are Pollock, Thaddeus Stevens and Croton schools. More detailed repairs and improvements are suggested for these buildings.

Group three contains North Street, Lincoln-Garfield, Oak Street and West Side schools. Concerning these schools the report says, "our analysis reveals so many deficiencies in planning, construction, location and educational requirements that we strongly recommend their early abandonment."

The board will meet with Mr. Thayer at a special session soon to discuss the report and receive further reports.

HUNGRY HUNGARIANS

Those who have the hard luck to be living in Hungary have been put on a limited literary diet by their Communist overlords. Some 10,000 books are now under the ban, including naturally many of those written by "bourgeois westerners."

To make certain there will be no bootlegging, Communist police went about the country and picked up more than 200,000 volumes that the people are not permitted to read.

Among the authors with whose works Hungarians must not become acquainted are such men and women as Vicki Baum, A. J. Cronin, Fannie Hurst, John P. Marquird and P. G. Wodehouse. Making the purge look still more ridiculous is the order which puts Dale Carnegie's "How To Win Friends and Influence People" on the proscribed list.

Offhand it would seem this is one book which all Communists ought to read. Certainly their present policy is not producing tangible results in that direction.

WORLD COMMUNIST LEADERS WORRIED

The Washington talks between President Truman and French Premier Rene Pleven have got world Communist leaders worried—worried that they will have to make sharp revisions in their plans of world conquest.

When the Kremlin gave the green light for the Korean War, it was anticipated that the shooting would soon be over and that Red forces could then concentrate on other Asiatic soft spots like Indo-China. But this proved only to be the first bit of miscalculation.

The Kremlin then thought the entrance of Red troops into the Korean conflict would force the UN forces off the peninsula, again leaving Communist forces free to move in elsewhere.

Again the die was cast against them. Now with fresh determination between France and the United States on aid to Indo-China, the Reds are once again cheated of an easy victory in Asia, for the French troops, revitalized with American equipment, are now more than holding their own against the Communists in that area, too.

CLEVELAND'S PICTURE

"What do they have $1,000 bills for, if you can't spend them?" That is what Mrs. Katherine Krkljacic asked after spending all day Sunday—and nothing else—while trying to buy something with her $1,000 bill.

She had just returned to New York from a visit abroad, and all she had was the aforementioned engraving of Grover Cleveland, which her husband sent her for expenses on the theory that it would be easier to "cash" than a check or a money order. That may even be a sound theory, on days when banks are open.

Somebody must have a use for the things, anyway, There are 589,000 of them in circulation, or enough to pay the interest on the national debt for something over a month. Gamblers and fixers and black marketeers are said to like paying off in them in order to avoid any records of their transactions. But most persons have little use for them, especially on Sundays.

This doesn't mean, of course, that they wouldn't take one as a gift. There are many Americans who have always wanted to see a good engraving of Cleveland.

NICKEL DISAPPEARING

The three United States mints are busier manufacturing dimes than they are nickels, reversing an earlier trend, according to officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. Last year the mints produced $12,000,000 of dimes and only $1,000,000 of nickels. Officials of the bank are not convinced that this is the result of inflation—a nickel being still worth half as much as a dime regardless of what the dollar is worth. The nickel is merely a bigger piece of metal than a dime, they explain, and lasts longer.

But it is a fact that during the decade of the '40s the mints turned out $235,000,000 of 10-cent pieces and $105,000,000 of five-cent pieces. That was nearly as many nickels as dimes, compared to six dimes to a nickel last year.

The bank confirms another oddity that is frequently disputed: A nickel countains more copper than a penny. A penny is 95 percent copper and a nickel 75 percent copper, but 75 percent of a nickel is more than 95 percent of a penny.

All money in circulation is handled at least twice by the Federal Reserve banks. New coins and bills from the mints and Bureau of Engraving go to a reserve bank which routes them into general circulation through a member bank. Cash so turned in goes back into circulation unless it is too badly worn, when it is sent to the Treasury Department to be destroyed.

And money has become big business, with approximately $27,000,000,000 in circulation, compared to $4,000,000,000 25 years ago. There many be a difference of opinion as to whether the dime is currently taking the place of the nickel as small change, but there is little doubt as to how this question will finally be answered.

Kangaroos, we read, can leap to a height of 10 feet. What a carefree and hoppy life they must lead!

Louisiana State university scientist says there are twice as many headaches among college graduates as among other folks. Probably result of cramming for exams or from celebrating passing of same.

In View Of News Of The World

New Proposal On Europe's Problems

The almost revolutionary proposal that France and Germany put an end to their "vicious cycle of resentment and pride" has been put forward today as a major key to solution of Europe's problems.

The suggestion has come from Andre Francois-Poncet, French high commissioner for Germany who for many years was ambassador to Berlin and has a deep and comprehensive knowledge of the German temperament and spirit.

Francois-Poncet was reviewing in advance the work of big four deputies who are scheduled to assemble in Paris next month to set the terms, time and place of a big four foreign ministers meeting.

For Lasting Solution

He stressed that to obtain any lasting solution of Franco-German problems and thereby aid in bringing about an end to the East-West crisis, there must be "give and take on a two-way parallel basis."

Francois-Poncet's remarks were particularly interesting and timely because they were made at the time of another "reconciliation" conference.

This is the meeting between the premiers and foreign ministers of France and Italy on the Italian Riviera.

The object of this session is to determine how far France and Italy can go in effecting a physical and spiritual, military and political reunion which could form the groundwork of increased European solidarity.

From the viewpoint of blood and customs, France and Italy frequently have been described as natural and normal allies.

Other Schools Of Thought

There are other schools of thought—more utopian perhaps—which hold that despite some tradtional differences and ancient rivalries, the French and German people are not so far apart as is generally imagined.

These observers point to the natural affinities of the people of the German Rhineland with the French who live across the narrow water barrier, and since the time of the Roman conquests there has been intermingly of blood and customs.

Furthermore, there is much in common between the Germans of Bavaria and the people of France.

Still, differences insist upon cropping up in what Francois-Poncet described as a "vicious circle."

This occurred when the Schuman plan for pooling of French and German coal, iron and steel resources was presented.

Initial Reaction Favorable

The initial reaction was generally favorable. Then both French and German industrialists began to fear that one would take advantage of the other.

The renunciation of national sovereignty which would be an integral part of the plan aroused feelings of distrust and suspicion.

More recently, the various plans for using German manpower in the creation of a western European defense army have run into stumbling-blocks.

France felt it made great concessions in consenting to revival of militarism in a nation from whose aggression it had suffered greatly.

In turn, the west Germans resented the proposal by French Premier Rene Pleven that German forces in the western army be restricted to regimental combat team strength.

Immediate Criticism

There was immediate criticism in western Germany on the grounds this meant that Germans would be transformed into "second class soldiers with a first-class opportunity to shed their blood."

And in the British parliament and elsewhere, western spokesmen trying to get the European army under way feel obliged constantly to ensure France that she never again will be endangered by a rearmed Germany.

Francois-Poncet, for all his idealist expressions regarding Franco-German unity, actually is a highly realistic person.

He must believe that the goal he has outlined can be achieved. Just how, or how soon, lie beyond the scope of adequate prediction. But there seems little question that fulfillment of his desire would go a long way toward ending world tension.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READING TO CHILD IS HELPFUL

Often in this column I've entreated parents to read to the young child and to keep on reading to him after he enters school, with the hope of reading to one another in the family by and by, just for companionship and pleasure. In my bulletin "Books from Which To Read to the Baby and Young Child", to be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y., I give 17 reasons for reading to the child. One of these reasons is the gain in ease and forcefulness of speech and writing by the parent who does the reading. Usually the very kind of stories young children like to hear, are told in simple, direct and effective style. February 12 was Lincoln's birthday. From the time he learned to read he was continually reading aloud even when alone. After he began to practice law he often read aloud.

It's wonderful when various members of the family read to one another some news items from the local paper, some joke or unusual statement or idea, some beautiful verses or paragraphs of prose or whole chapters of a book. It can be a delightful companionship.

Younger Parents

Some of us shared in such experiences of reading and listening when we were children and when we were younger parents with our own children. Few memories are to me more precious than of when one of our own children at 8, 10 or 15 would read aloud something from a story he was reading for mere fun or from a book of reading assigned at school. Often this was just blurted out with the hope that someone would listen appreciatively.

I can also remember happily hearing my grandfather reading from the Bible to my grandmother while she was mending or doing other work with her hands. Often I would choose to listen for a long while. One pair of grandparents of our children used to read every evening to each other from the Bible and often there were many younger listeners.

Read to Each Other

How delightful when many older married couples on evenings alone read to each other a verse or paragraphs or humorous remarks come upon, while the other also reading, gladly stops and listens.

Modern invention and ways in homes today—television, radio and somebody always in a hurry to go somewhere—don't encourage this reading to one another. Nevertheless, there still are homes of leisure around the fireside, where all the family are together on some or many evenings; there are some such homes from which the world is shut out for long periods at a stretch.

There could be more such homes if more parents saw the values of such and cultivated pleasure of listening in the child from his very early years by reading and reading and reading to him. Fortunately more and more teachers are reading aloud in the schoolroom for the childrens' enjoyments and more children are learning at school to read aloud and are practiced there at reading to one another.

They Say

TOKYO—General MacArthur—"Talk of crossing the 38th parallel at the present stage of the campaign, except by scattered patrol action incidental to the tactical situation, is purely academic."

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—Ernest A. It was sent for only one purpose—to prevent the spread of armed conflict."

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

A problem has been created . . . and as time goes on the problem will no doubt become more acute. In Tuesday's issue we carried a picture of a young couple showing off their horticultural extravaganza, the "Sacred Lily of India" . . . now we aren't the only newspaper to carry such a story . . . and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Klenotic are not the only couple to have such a plant . . . that is what makes the problem so complicated.

* * *

Confused . . . so are we and here's why. With all these huge plants growing and blooming throughout the country the job of keeping them alive and in good health is really something to think about. According to the stories as related by the Klenotics and others who have these lily bulbs . . . it is necessary to keep the bulbs, at least part of the year, in a darkened basement. Well now . . . that's where the problem begins . . . with all these modern houses . . . ranch type (without basements) and functional modern with half a basement . . . where it is as light as any other rooms in the house . . . where are the growers of these lilies going to store the bulb?

* * *

Now of course you will say . . . these dwellers in houses of such design won't be able to grow the lily. Well now . . . that's sort of creating a feeling of segregation . . . with so much construction going on (the type described above) can't you see that soon there will be two types of people . . . those who can raise the "Sacred Lily of India" and those who can't raise the "Sacred Lily of India" . . . and it could even go as far as making those who can't grow the lily becoming Democrats . . . which would mean a government grant to build separate dark basements for that privilege underprivileged class . . . Oh you see, now we are confused and the problem really has even gotten started.

* * *

Do you think that Joey and his pals invented the "Sacred Lily of India" just to confuse us? They have taken credit for all other inventions so surely they won't turn thumbs down on this one . . . Asinine . . . sure is but so is Joey's thinking . . . and besides the lily stinks.

PAIN IN THE NECK

Most Embarrassing

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

What was your most embarrassing moment?

Mine came to mind today when I airmailed the Savoy hotel in Florence, Italy, for a reservation a couple of weeks from now.

I am not at all sure that I will get a room, due to the uproar which I unintentionally caused in the dining room of that hotel two years ago.

We had left Rome early in the morning with nothing but a continental breakfast under our belts, and as you well know a continental breakfast isn't worth a continental to Americans who are used to starting the day with ham and eggs and other stick-to-the-ribs vittles.

When we reached the Savoy dining room it was going on two o'clock and we were famished. We were seated at a table against the wall and ordered the works. Antipasto, minestrone, spaghetti, veal scallopini, salad, a jug of chianti, and dessert.

Settled Back To Enjoy Food

Along about the middle of the meal I realized that my trousers had shrunk sometime during the year, so, under the protective covering of the large white tablecloth that reached to the floor, I loosened my belt considerably. Very considerably, let us say, and settled back to really enjoy the fine Italian food.

The room was crowded but I had noticed when I came in a man in uniform lunching at a table near the center of the room. His face was familiar to me, and mine must have been to him, because we kept darting glances at one another. You know how it is. We both were sure we had met somewhere, but couldn't exactly place one another.

Then, all of a sudden, we both remembered.

"McLemore," he called, "what in the world are you doing here?"

"Major Phillips," I called back. "Well, I'll be ----"

With the speed and enthusiasm that an American always shows when spotting another American in a foreign country I jumped up from my table headed toward the Major.

Two seconds later I was in the middle of my most embarrassing moment.

Trousers Drop

Just before I reached the Major's table the loosened trousers that I had forgotten all about dropped around my ankles, tripped me up, and sent me sprawling, flat on my face, at the Major's feet.

There I was, in full view of most of the other diners, clad only in my shorts, and still chewing on a mouthful of veal scallopini.

The Major looked at me as if I were crazy, as did his wife.

The captain and two waiters helped me to my feet and I dressed as fast as any fireman ever did, chatting away like a magpie to the Phillips and trying to act as if there was nothing unusual about a man losing his trousers in a dining room.

I don't know if I was the most talked about man in the hotel during the week we stayed there, because I don't speak Italian, but I do know I was the most stared at. But the folks stared in vain. I added suspenders to my belt, plus a strong rope, and a yard or two of Scotch tape.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

We can use more immigrants like the woman who came in with a million dollars worth of diamonds in her shoes, but they shouldn't be so quiet about it.

Sometimes we get the impression all our wealth is being shipped out of the country and here are these lovely smugglers bringing us diamonds!

But this is the first woman ever heard of who could crowd any more than her feet into her shoes.

I hear that when she bought them the clerk said "do they pinch you anywhere?" She said "not yet . . . but they may in New York."

She came from one of the busted countries in Europe . . . She and another immigrant had only two million dollars in diamonds between them.

And you know how little that will buy at the meat market these days.

But in time we hope to build up the prosperity of Europe to the point where her citizens won't have to apologize for having so little on them when picked up.

Just Folks

WOMAN AND MAN

I don't know women very well
Nor what they think and plan for.
But knowing men, I cannot tell
Just what they want a man for.

It's nice to have a man around
To help, at times, in small ways.
But, what in man has woman found
To want to have him always?

At best he's slave to mood and whim;
One twinge of pain—he's dying!
The constant need to pamper him
Must certainly be trying.

Yet, glad am I that love is blind;
So blind, that when we woo them
The women wait too late to find
The bother we'll be to them.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Hans Wagner, the immortal Pittsburgh shortstop, is probably the all-time outstanding star of the National League (Ty Cobb and Babe Ruth share the honors in the junior major loop). How hard could Wagner hit a baseball? Well, Poll Perritt, who pitched against him one day for the Giants, swears that Hans rifled a fast ball back at him with such force that it shot under his arm—and out over the center-field fence!

Architect Addison Mizner was no mean hand at coining epigrams in his spare time. Here are a few of his better ones: "Some people's genius lies in giving infinite pains;" "Where there's a will, there's a lawsuit;" "It's a strong stomach that has no turning;" "A jade may be either a semi-precious stone or a semi-precious woman;" "Don't talk about yourself; it will be done when you leave."

Inside Washington

MARCH OF EVENTS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Things are more cheerful these days at the Pentagon, the nation's military nerve center, and curiously it is not only because of the anticipation of effective new atomic weapons, but also because Uncle Sam's warriors are demonstrating that they can fight a primitive war right here in the Twentieth Century if they have to.

Strategists here conjecture that never in the history of military science has there been such a set of opposites as exists between what is taking place in Korea and at the atomic proving grounds in Nevada, the two places where American ingenuity at fighting are on trial.

GI Joe is learning how to handle atomic weapons and to defend against the possibility of such lethal weapons-of-tomorrow in enemy hands, at the same time that he turns the calendar backward to meet the Chinese Reds on their own terms.

Jet pilots are being rotated to assignments in Korea so that valuable battle experience with ultra-modern aircraft may be shared, while some of the military planners wonder if the horse cavalry was put out to pasture too quickly because of the big help they might have been on Korean terrain.

Such extremes may be farther apart today than ever before, but clashes between the present and past are not unusual in military history. During the centuries that the British were defending a global empire, they often were fooled by foes who capitalized temporarily on outmoded methods.

—o—

NOW THAT the United States has to meet opponents all over the world regardless of the stage of their civilization, its strategists figure that they may have to take a leaf out of John Bull's book. The English looked pretty stupid at times, but usually managed to adjust in time to win that crucial last battle.

Some of the outcomes were not so fortunate for the British, like the time when in 1814 they sent a fine army fresh from the conquest of Napoleon to conquer the Mississippi valley, and Andrew Jackson's rude frontiersmen put it to complete rout.

Even the United States has had similar experiences, the Custer Massacre in 1876 by Indians led by Chief Sitting Bull at the battle of the Little Big Horn. Civil War tactics, which involved some of the highest strategy up to that time, had to be unlearned before the Sioux were subdued.

In Korea, the Chinese have used to great advantage their hordes of foot soldiers, pack animals including even camels, and horse cavalry. Jet planes found it hard to spot the earth-colored enemy personnel which "froze" into immobility at their approach.

However, American officers now are proud of the way their men have learned to meet these tactics.

—o—

SOME STRATEGISTS here are recommending a rebirth of the cavalry if many fights with Asiatic forces are in prospect. Most armies in the East, including the Russians with their Cossacks, keep alive the traditions of the Golden Horde of 700,000 mounted warriors.

However, there is a limit to the value of looking backward for successful tactics, most Pentagon strategists agree, and there are no present plans for reactivation of horse cavalry.

Instead, the aim is to use mechanized units with the dash and imagination of Generals "Jeb" Stuart, "Light Horse Larry" Lee and Frances Marion, "the Swamp Fox." The late Gen. George Patton, a converted horse cavalryman who became a master of the tanks, is increasingly an idol of the United States Army.

One great blessing in disguise of the Korean situation which is cited here is the great opportunity it provides for unparalleled training of American military men under combat conditions that cannot be duplicated in the most rigorous peacetime training.

Much of the fighting in Korea has constituted "learning the hard way" for American officers and their troops, but the lessons are viewed around the Pentagon as indications that Uncle Sam in the role of John Bull's successor as a world policeman also can figure on winning the last and most important battles.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There has been an enormous increase in bankruptcies in this country.

They are reported everywhere—East, West, North, South.

Thousands and thousands of people have confesed failure and want permission to start all over again.

However, in case you want to check this report, don't go to the court records.

You won't find them there.

Nor strange to say, are these bankruptcies evidence of bad business, as bankruptcies usually are. Rather they are evidence of an ever growing boom.

The bankruptcies of which I speak are not commercial bankruptcies.

They are spiritual bankruptcies.

They are confessions that investments in material things have failed.

They are admissions by the bankrupts that they have stocked the wrong kind of merchandise.

An almost miraculous religious revival is going on all over the land.

Half-empty churches are now filled to capacity.

Once again prayer and psalm has become something practical to mililons.

Religion, for years a sleek Sunday garment, is now a welcome coat to shelter the bankrupt from the cold of fear.

Perhaps it is good that it is so.

Perhaps God, in His wisdom, lets His human race do its playing and strutting and faking and four-flushing just so long.

Then He sends a disaster or a war and says to us:

"What are you little children going to do now?"

And just like little children who run to their mother when they are in trouble, we forget all about our pretty toys' the minks and diamonds and television sets and automobiles, and run to God.

We confess our bankruptcy and ask Him to get us out of the mess.

We fervently pray for His help when we had been so sure that we could help ourselves. We ask for forgiveness of our sins which we had thought were only fun and play.

We ask Him to put our house in order when we had considered ourselves such efficient housekeepers.

We expect Him to reorganize our business when we were so proud of our management ability.

I am glad of this revival of religion. It was so badly needed.

But will it last? Will religion remean an integral part of our lives when this present trouble is over?

I hope it will. Because where there is no LIVING religion there can be no peace. Where religion is only lip-service rather than soul-service, there will always be bankruptcy.

What IS religion?

Not only the mechanical, methodical worship of God.

True religion is unqualified belief in a divine power, the power that has given us those wonderful human qualities which no scientist will ever be able to explain.

It is unqualified belief in the power that has given us love and hope and charity, courage, character, willingness to serve, tolerance, sympathy, modesty and humility.

Religion is belief in the divine power that has made us human.

Pastor To Go To Pittsburgh

Laymen In Charge At Methodist Church

Cooperating in the Pittsburgh Methodist Advance for Christ, a program of evangelistic endeavor being carried on in Methodism, Rev. O. G. Shindledecker, pastor of Mahoning Methodist church, will leave for Pittsburgh Friday, where he will receive preliminary instruction for the part he is to play in the church program.

The evangelistic program, a part of that which has been so successfully completed in the Grove City district, will be continued in the Pittsburgh area, starting on Friday and continuing over the following Friday. Rev. Shindledecker will report to the First Methodist church Community House, Aiken avenue and Baum boulevard, on Friday to attend the school in evangelism. In the evening, he will join a large number of guest pastors in a banquet.

The Seventh Ward pastor has been assigned to the Aspinwall Methodist church, where he will serve as visiting pastor and evangelist from Sunday through Friday, aiding in the visitation program of that church. He will assist members of that church in recruiting men and women for Christ.

During the absence of the pastor, laymen of Mahoning church, will put on an intensive laymen's program and will observe laymen's Sunday on February 18. Alva Johnson, lay leader, together with other laymen, have mapped out their program for Sunday and the following week, which will be known as a Week of Dedication. The program will culminate on the following Sunday, February 25, with a service of Dedication of Christian Life, Talents and Material Substance.

Further announcements of the program will be revealed later.

A valentine party highlighted the festivities at the meeting of the St. Margaret's Sewing club in their club rooms on Tuesday evening.

The prettily arranged table was centered with a large heart-shaped cake, flanked with red and white candles. Red and white candy-filled baskets marked each place setting. The anniversaries of Mrs. Margaret DeThomas and Mrs. Ann Perette were honored when they received lovely gifts from their secret pals.

A dainty lunch was served by candlelight by the hostesses, Mrs. Florence Majocka, Mrs. Anetta Polio and Mrs. Florence Perrine. An exchange of hankies was held by secret pals.

Knitting and embroidering featured the evening's activity, with cards as a later pastime. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Charlotte Moore, Mrs. Rose Santo, and Mrs. Mildred Funare. Monticarlo prizes went to Mrs. Rose DiDario, Mrs. T. C. Rainey and Mrs. Ann Perette. A lovely figurine door prize went to Mrs. Rose Mash.

The anniversary of Mrs. Rose Mash will be celebrated at the next meeting of February 26. Hostesses in the club rooms will include Mrs. Virginia Short, Mrs. Sondra Pecore and Mrs. Ann Perette.

Kennedy Buys Two Properties

East Washington St. Buildings Are Sold

By article of agreement, two properties on East Washington have been sold by Abraham Fisher and his wife, to Miles W. Kennedy, local plumbing supply contractor.

The two properties are the Wright Block, a five-story brick structure, and the three-story brick building next to it, located alongside the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks. The price was $100,000.

Mr. Kennedy expects to move his plumbing supply business on South Jefferson street into the newly-acquired property sometime in April.

For many years the first floor of the Wright block was occupied by a grocery market, with apartments on the upper four floors.

The three story building adjoining contains two business properties, one a gun shop and the other a cafe.

Airplane Launched Guided Missile Is Near Reality

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. — The first definite word was obtained today that the United States is close to developing an airplane-launched guided missile which could knock bombers out of the sky with a high percentage of accuracy.

A military source within the high percentage of accuracy.

A military source within the highest-priority and super-secret project said "we're putting everything into this one, and we've just about got it."

Radar Aiming

"Everything" in a guided missile would be radar-aiming, radar and radio control to correct the aim after the missile has been launched, a homing device to help guide the missile to its target, and a proximity fuse.

Defense officials confirmed the air-to-air missile has been given the "absolute top" priority and is being "pushed with everything we have."

The army and navy have ground-to-air rocket missiles with which they hope to knock out planes up to 60,000 feet from land and naval bases, but much greater accuracy is expected when similar missiles are carried aloft by planes for firing from within a few hundred yards of the target.

Launch from Planes

The air-to-air type is expected to weigh considerably more than half a ton, but to be designed for launching from Jet fighter planes.

The statement the missiles will show a "high percentage" of accuracy would modify Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg's estimate the air force could destroy no more than 30 per cent of the bombers attacking the U.S.

The air force chief's estimate would apply to bombers attacking broad areas, but particular stategic points amply supplied with radar and jet fighters carrying guided missiles could be given much more complete protection.

If 25 or 30 cities and vital installations in the U.S. can be completely protected from bombers, military leaders believe there will be no place left where one or several atomic bombs could seriously cripple the national war effort.

STRIKE THREATENED

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—The CIO Textile Workers of America threatens to call 70,000 employes of woolen and worsted manufacturing companies out on strik. at midnight.

The union, demanding a 15 cents an hour wage increase and other benefits, is conducting "final" negotiations today with the American Woolen company, largest in the industry.

The 160 other companies, a union spokesman said, are expected to fall into line if American signs a satisfactory agreement.

Most of the companies are in the northeastern states and a few are in the south.

New Record For Fish Stocking In State Made In '50

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—The Fish-Stocking Program of both game and food fish into the streams and lakes open to public fishing in Pennsylvania reached a new all time high during the year 1950, according to figures released by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission today.

During the year 1950, some 682,884 black bass ranging up to 12 inches long, were placed in the open fishing waters of the Commonwealth, while 2,205,943 trout including brook, brown and rainbows ranging in size from seven inches to as long as 20 inches, were stocked in approved streams and lakes.

The report lists 315,110 catfish five to 12 inches long; 687,143 sunfish three to eight inches long, together with yellow perch, minnows, pickerel, calico bass, pike perch, suckers, carp and frogs (embryo) for a grand total of 4,773,437.

In addition some 401,635,450 fry, yellow perch, pike perch, cisco, white fish, blue pike and fingerling trout were released. The total weight of all fish stocked during 1950 amounted to over 458 tons or 916,000 pounds.

There have been no changes in the fish laws for 1951. The seasons, sizes and limits will remain the same as 1950.

France And Italy Conclude Agreement For Joint Action

SANTA MARGHERITA, Italy, Feb. 14.—(INS)—France and Italy on Wednesday concluded an agreement for creation of a permanent committee for joint action in the political and economic fields.

Italian Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza, who played a leading role in a series of conferences with French Premier Rene Pleven and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, hailed the pact as the forerunner of a fully united western Europe.

Sforza told International News Service:

"We have worked for European unity and we have been successful.

"The results of the conference can be summarized as follows:

"Closer and continuous Franco-Italian relations are guaranteed by periodic contacts on a basis of reciprocity in the interests of both nations. This will be shown by the agreement to pool the iron and steel industries, the real cornerstone of a European union.

"The profound mutual understanding which continuous contact between the two nations will bring will be dedicated to establishment of a European union, which alone can guarantee peace.

"It is opportune to add that the agreements reached do not exclude future collaboration with other nations. In fact, they foster such collaboration in the interest of democracy and world freedom."

Results of the Riviera parley were termed a source of "great satisfaction" to Pleven, Schuman, Sforza and Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

Witness Reports Life Threatened

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Sam Ruta, a witness in the Duncan McCarter phase of Pittsburgh's ever-widening "free-work" probe, revealed that his life had been threatened.

The former city laborer said he received the ominous telephone call shortly after he arived home last Tuesday, under police protection.

The threat was related by Ruta yesterday as the Civil Service commission prepared to adjourn its hearing into charges that MacCarter, a city street supervisor, used city labor to repair his Northside home.

Ruta earlier had demanded police protection before he would testify that he and six other city employes performed duties for McCarter at the city official's home.

WOULD BAR BROADCASTS

Desmond's bill would bar commercial broadcasting from buses, subways, streetcars and other public places.

JESUS THE CHRIST

DISCIPLES CONVINCED HE IS THE MESSIAH

The Christ.

"Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God."—Matthew 16:16.
Scripture—Mark 7:24—9:1

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In reading over today's Bible references, we are struck with the fact that after each miracle Jesus worked, He asked those whom He had healed and the onlookers to tell no one.

None abeyed Him. So overcome with amazement were those who received His help or witnessed the deed, they told everyone they met.

In every household in the vicinity of the miracle, it must have been the chief topic of conversation. Neighbors told neighbors; families sent word to relatives and friends, and those who had been cured were objects of wonder and awe.

Why did not Jesus want these works of His blazoned abroad? The time had not come to disclose His real nature. Also, the rulers of the synagogues were jealous of their position and authority, and they would do their best (and did) to trap this audacious Person and discredit and silence Him, even if they had to kill Him.

What do you do if you are asked not to tell about something that has happened? Do you immediately tell the next person you meet? Or do you do as you are asked, and keep it secret?

Gratitude for favors received may make it seem right to acquaint others with the deed, but loyalty to your benefactor should keep you silent.

In today's story, Jesus had gone to the borders of Tyre and Sidon, where He went into a house, hoping no one would know. He was there. A woman, a Gentile and a Phoenician of Syria, had evidently been waiting for Him, and she followed Him into the house and threw herself at His feet.

Her little daughter was possessed by an unclean spirit, she said, and she begged the Master to cast it out. After a suggestion of Jesus and a quick-witted answer by the mother, she was told to go her way; "the devil is gone out of thy daughter." And so the mother found it to be, when she arrived home.

In Decapolis there was brought to Christ a deaf and dumb man. Jesus took the man aside, put His fingers in his ears, then spat, and taking a little spital on His finger, He touched it to the tongue of the man—who immediately could hear and speak.

The third miracle of which we are told by St. Mark, was similar to the one we had in a recent lesson—the feeding of the five thousand with three loaves and two small fishes. In this case there were four thousand people who had been with the Lord for three days with nothing to eat.

"If I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far," Jesus told His disciples.

They had seven small loaves this time, the disciples said, and "a few small fishes." Jesus made these feed the four thousand and they had seven basketsful left over.

When Jesus and His disciples came to Dalmanutha the Pharisees sought Him out, asking Him questions, and seeking a sign of Him. They were tempting Him.

Jesus sighed and said, "Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, there shall be no sign given unto this generation."

Coming to Caesarea Philippi, Jesus questioned His disciples as to what people were saying about Him—"Whom do men say that I am?" Some say John the Baptist come again; some say Elias; and others, "one of the prophets."

"But whom say ye that I am?" He asked them.

Peter, the impetuous, answered first, as usual, "Thou art the Christ."

Jesus told them to say nothing, and then He began to teach them that He must leave them, must suffer many things, and be killed, but that after three days He would rise again.

Peter began to rebuke his Lord, probably to comfort Him that such things would not be, but Jesus in turn rebuked Peter, with the words He had used to Satan in the wilderness, "Get thee behind Me, Satan."

Then He said to them that he who would follow after the Master must deny himself and take up his cross and follow in His footsteps.

What can we do individually to help to keep the peace of the world? It may not seem much, but we can live as Jesus would have us—following in the footsteps of the Master, whose "holy work was doing good."

We can broadcast His message to all within sound of our voices, for the time is now—to spread the gospel of peace and goodwill to a deeply troubled world.

Open House At College Manse

Announcement Is Made By Dr. Orr

Dr. and Mrs. Will W. Orr of Westminster college announce "open house" at the new college manse on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

They cordially invite the many friends of the college from New Castle to visit them in their new home.

The home now occupied by the president of the college and his family is a gift of the J. S. Mack Foundation. Mr. Mack, together with Walter Shaw, founded the G. C. Murphy company five-and-ten cent chain store in 1910. Mr. Mack, prior to his death in 1940, had been a generous supporter of Westminster college. He had expressed the desire prior to his death to build a home for the president. He passed away before it was done and Mrs. Mack reaffirmed the desire to build such a home. However, she passed away before Mr. Mack's estate was settled.

"Mack Manse" stands today as a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. James S. Mack.

Oldsmobile Makes Debut Here Today

New Castle Motors, Inc., West Washington street, presents to New Castle the fine new 1951 Oldsmobile in its showrooms today. Oldsmobile for 1951 offers a smartly restyled Series "98" line of cars with distinctive improvements in exterior appearance and body suspension and important advances in the application of high compression engine design principles.

Four body styles are offered for 1951 in the luxurious "98" series, including the deluxe Holiday four-door sedan, Holiday coupe, deluxe Holiday coupe and the convertible coupe. Wheelbase on the "98" continues at 122 inches but the overall length has been reduced one inch to 208 inches. Hydramatic continues as an optional feature on all series "98" cars. The "88" likewise has four body styles.

Greater riding ease will be achieved in the 1951 series "98" cars through the use of new leaf type rear springs instead of coil springs. Exterior body trim on this series features highly polished stainless steel. Distinguishing feature of the 98's are a spear like ornamentation that doubles as a gravel shield, a ribbed panel on the four door sedan, just back of the rear window and vertical instead of horizontal louvres under the headlights.

A new type of floor covering is being introduced in the 1951 Oldsmobile models. Rubber has been processed to simulate sturdy fabric and its crinkled surface refuses to absorb moisture. Many similar features may be viewed on the 1951 Olds.

Sudden Cold Snap Checks River Rise At Columbia, Pa.

COLUMBIA, Pa., Feb. 15—(INS)—A sudden cold snap checked a rise in the Susquehanna River today and delayed immediate relief for residents of flood-stricken Columbia.

Residents of the southeastern Pennsylvania community, on an emergency ration of one quart of drinking water a day until the borough water plant is restored to service, were hit by high water a week ago.

A plug of ice five miles long in the Susquehanna showed signs late yesterday of cracking when high water resulting from comparatively warm weather rushed downstream.

The ice, snagged in a shallow section of the river on the unused base of a dam built 114 years ago, sent flood waters over the banks into the workings of the water plant last Thursday.

Drinking water is being trucked into the community. Water for sanitary purposes is available in limited quantity from other sources.

State engineers have surveyed the situation but no report is expected to be made to Gov. John S. Fine until late today.

Meanwhile, the Pennsylvania Railroad scouted the possibility of using company equipment to pump water into the P.R.R. reservoir in Columbia as the forerunner of cancellation of burgess Walter Roye's ban on all industrial activity until the emergency passes.

Test Shop A&P!

Customers' Corner

At this time each year we honor our founder, George Huntington Hartford, who gave us this basic policy:

"Always do what is honest, fair and sincere and in the best interests of our customers."

Today, as in our first store 92 years ago, the men and women of A&P strive constantly to live up to that policy.

If we should ever fail to do so, please let us know. Please write:

CUSTOMER RELATIONS DEPT.
A&P Food Stores
420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Buy all your food and household needs at A&P for one week. Then compare the total cost with your usual weekly food bill. You'll save any day you shop.

Because A&P not only offers storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day, but guarantees advertised prices for a full week, even though market prices go up.

This guarantee applies to all advertised items . . . not to groceries alone, from Thursday through Wednesday . . . not merely for a few days.

A&P's PRICE POLICY

- Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day . . . instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials.
- All advertised prices (including those items not subject to price ceilings) are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.

We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.

- With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip . . . you know what you save at A&P.

All prices shown here, not merely grocery prices, are guaranteed — Thursday, February 15th thru Wednesday, February 21st

'Stretching The Food Budget'

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—"And what is this goo we are eating tonight, if I may make so bold as to ask?" the head of the house wanted to know, as he poked a serving spoon into the casserole in front of him.

"Sh-h-h, you mustn't hurt Mattie's feelings!" I cautioned, nodding toward the kitchen door and the lair of our household jewel. "She made it to surprise you."

"She has succeeded beyond her wildest dreams," my spouse said grimly. "It seems to have the consistency and feel of boarding house hash without its flavor. Have you plumbed its secrets?"

"Well, my goodness," I said, "you don't have to be so picky! You're the one who's been screaming his head off about the high cost of living and being in bondage to the butcher."

"I may have lifted my voice a decibel or two," said the head of the house, with dignity, "but not loud enough to merit this. Come on, give."

"This is something Mattie read in the paper," I said with equal dignity. "It was a recipe in an article called 'stretching the food budget to beat inflation'."

"Only Inflation?"

"Only inflation?" asked my spouse. "This beats the devil!"

"Oh, shush!" I said. "You yelled so loud about the price of those lamb chops two days ago that poor Mattie said she was going to try this meat substitute. The recipe said to take a cup of rice, a cup of water, two boullion cubes to give it that meat flavor, a half cup of chopped peanuts, a half cup of seeded raisins, a half cup of grated cheese and any left-overs in the ice-box."

My spouse tasted the result critically once more.

"Since when have we been keeping old boot tops in the ice-box?" he demanded. "Or," he asked, taking another cautious bite, "is this the subtle flavor of an old inner tube I detect?"

"Well, if you hadn't made so much fuss about the lamb chops, Mattie and I wouldn't have tried so hard to find a meat substitute," I said.

"If I questioned the wisdom of buying gold-plated lamb chops, it is only because I don't want to go to the poor farm before my time," my spouse said. "After all, $2.34 for three lamb chops! Who do you think we are, Rockefellers?"

"Please, darling, please!" I cried, "remember your blood pressure!"

"Two dollars and thirty-four cents for three lamb chops!" he muttered.

"Yes, but they were double lamb chops," I said. "I distinctly remember you telling Mattie double or nothing."

"That's sure what I got tonight: nothing," he said gloomily, pushing his plate away. "I can distinctly remember when we were first married that a whole leg of lamb——

"Only cost $2.34," I finished. "But that was 21 years ago and those days are gone forever."

"All right, all right. We can't afford lamb chops," my spouse snorted. "But is there any reason we can't have a good, nourishing stew like other poor people?"

"Only the cost of stew meat!" I replied. "The meat in that stew we had last month cost $2.14 and the one we had last week, after the roll back in prices and wages, added up to $2.57. Same meat, same quality, same quantity, same stew."

The head of the house shuddered visibly and attacked the contents of the casserole.

"One more government roll-back," he said glumly, "and I'll have to settle for goo."

Women's Auxiliary Meets At Mission

Women's auxiliary to the City Rescue Mission assembled Tuesday afternoon at the mission with a large number in attendance. Mrs. Walter Hindman offered the opening prayer, while scriptural verses, containing the word 'heart' were given in response to roll call.

Mrs. M. H. Hall, Portersville, gave an inspiring talk and flannelgraph on the theme "The Boy Bobby".

Mrs. Thomas Gricks and Mrs. Louis Beckert were appointed to purchase drapes for the mission. Rev. F. D. Marshall, superintendent, gave a report for the January activities of the mission, the month being a busy one.

A tempting lunch was served by Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, Mrs. Fred Howland and Mrs. J. H. Hufford. Plans are being made for a Friendship luncheon Tuesday, March 13, at 12:30 p. m. in the mission. Each member is asked to take a pillow-slip to the meeting.

GROOM'S ATTIRE AT HOME WEDDING

"I would like so much to have some information on the proper accessories to wear at a home wedding. My dress will be street-length velvet. Is a hat necessary? Is it essential to have ushers at a home wedding? My invitation will, of course, be informal notes. How should they be addressed to friends of my fiance whom I have not met? In a home wedding, do guests stand or remain seated? Do the bride and groom face the guests or have their backs turned to the guests?"

Answer: A matching velvet calot would be most attractive if you will wear a corsage. You may, instead, wear flowers in your hair if you prefer; but not if you wear a corsage. This would constitute a too great profusion of flowers.

Write informal notes to your friends. Below is a sample of a letter which you might write to friends of your fiance whom you have not met:

"Dear Mrs. Smith:

"Bob and I are to be married on Saturday the (date) at (time) at my home, ,address).

"We both hope very much that you and Mr. Smith can come for the ceremony and the reception immediately following."

Address your invitation to the wife but be sure to include her husband, as above.

Ushers are not essential at an informal home wedding, but you may have two if you so wish. They will help balance things if you have a processional.

Guests should always stand during a wedding ceremony, from the time the bride arrives until she leaves when the ceremony is over. The bride and groom face the clergyman at the improvised altar with their backs to the guests as they do in a church ceremony.

Few Benefit By Program Of Tax Refund

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's tax refund of two and one-half cents a gallon on gasoline used for non-highway purposes was described today as a boon only to an average 2.2 per cent of the state's farmers.

More than 97 per cent have not benefitted because of restrictions connected with the refund, according to the joint state government commission.

The JSGC's subcommittee on tax-exempt liquid fuels blamed a quarterly filing fee of $1.50 for the lack of applications from small farmers.

Fee Is Handicap

The unit said the fee "in effect makes it impossible for a farm operator to get a refund on the first 60 gallons of liquid fuels used in any one quarter for non-highway purposes".

On a yearly basis, the subcommittee explained, the six dollars to be paid to the state revenue department for filing fees would nullify the refund on the first 240 gallons of gasoline.

A JSGC spokesman said this was the "most restrictive provision we have found" in a survey of 20 other states refunding the tax.

Until the 50 per cent tax refund was enacted by the general assembly in 1949, farmers got nothing back on their payments.

Although "non-highway use" of liquid fuels also applies to aviation, cleaning and dyeing, construction, industry and railroading, the refund was granted only to farmers.

Inequity Emphasized

The subcommittee's findings, turned over to the legislature this week for consideration by agricultural and highway committees, emphasized the refund's inequity for operators of small farms.

"The average acreage, including both cultivated and uncultivated land, of the farms of refund recipients was 219 acres," the subcommittee said, "while the average acreage of all farms in Pennsylvania was about 87 1-2 acres".

"The farms for which claims were filed represented a greater percentage of total acreage than of total number of farms," the unit added.

"This indicates that existing refunding provisions are more profitable to the operators of larger farms".

Refunds paid to 7,617 recipients out of a total of 171,000 farmers in the Commonwealth totaled $219,034 from July 1, 1949, to June 30, 1950, the subcommittee said. Average payment was $28.76.

Applications were reported received from 2.9 per cent of the state's farm operators in the third quarter of 1949; 1.8 per cent in the last quarter; 1.4 per cent in the first quarter of 1950 and 2.8 per cent in the second quarter.

Doctors In Draft Being Classified For Service Calls

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Selective Service headquarters today reported that doctors recently examined will be classified "for possible call-up within the next six to eight months."

Meanwhile, State Draft Director Henry M. Gross announced induction call number 10 for 1427 registrants February 26-28.

Station quotas are: Erie, 46; Harrisburg, 130; Philadelphia, 433; Pittsburgh, 597; and Wilkes-Barre, 221.

Gross said his reassurance concerning doctors was prompted by a request from the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

Doctors who will be sent to the Armed Services, he said, "Will be the younger men of the profession who received their training at government expense."

He emphasized that "in no event will the only physician in any community" be summoned for duty with the Armed Services.

"Selective Service officials and the medical society are doing everything to see that no community will be left without adequate medical care."

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

MEYERSDALE, Pa., Feb. 14.—(INS)—George Berkley, 46, a strip coal mine worker of Meyersdale, was killed Wednesday when his automobile struck a guard rail on Route 160 near Berlin.

Police said the victim, who was riding alone in the car, was pronounced dead on arival at the Meyersdale hospital.

In The Open

One of the most welcome sounds in the full outdoors repertoire is the musical gurgling of "thaw" water on that cloudless day when the February sun moves in close enough to break winter's ice-locked grip. The countryman hearkens to this water music with delight, in the knowledge that it marks the end of one of the tedious series of melancholy eras which must somehow be lived through before another "March with his gusty hammers comes knocking at our doors".

To be sure there will be storms and rumors of storms long after the February break-up, but try as they may, these late-winter onslaughts are soon beaten off. The countryman figures that whatever happens from now on is simply a token rear-guard action. He notes the buds swelling in the thickets, hears the song sparrow chanting in the hazy dawn and knows that the tide of battle has been turned and that if he can hold on but a few more weeks the woodlands will once more don their misty veil of shimmering green to welcome back another springtime.

Rendezvous With Spring

If you would make rendezvous with the advance scouts of spring, seek out the southerly slopes and the valleys lying open to the returning sun. In the gloomy depths of the timberland the frosty air still nips at fingers and the coarse-grained snow complains underfoot. But on the southern facings it is a different story. Here the little feathered folk congregate in the genial sunlight to watch a winter passing.

The sun was at noon height and working all-out when I headed over the hills for a short hiking foray. The objective for the day was a pocket full of the tight-wrapped cocoons of the wild cherry moth, and such other February fare as the wayside might afford. The mercury was heading toward the fifties and the gentle breeze from the southland was singing soft snatches of springtime melody.

Sloping roadsides carried racing torrents of the roily ice-water. As the sun struck home the ice pack which had threatened life and limb turned rotten and then disappeared in sparkling rivulets. The bare brown ribs of the open fields showed through the tattered remains of the melting white coverlid.

Sights Along Route

I moseyed along a wagon trail which slants along a hillside above the wide creek in the valley. A song sparrow jerked along before me with that peculiar pumping action of the tail which marks this bird in flight. A trim Cooper's hawk came out of a tangle of vines above me, circled slowly overhead and then moved off across the valley. This was probably the same bird I have seen on several recent occasions.

At one low point in the trail a definite aroma indicated where one of the potent brothers of the skunk lodge had dispatched a valentine to his lady love. Apparently the way to a skunk's heart is not through the stomach but through the nose.

The wagon trace I was following slanted up across the hillside and lost itself in a broad upland field. The edging fence-row was choked with the shrubbery of wild plum, sassafrass and wild cherry. Here I hunted for the snug cocoons, and in the next quarter mile pocketed 11 good heavy specimens.

A good collection of the cocoons of the velvety wild cherry moth has become a winter "must" in our household. They hang in a cold room in the cellar until the screens are up. Then they move into various points of vantage about our screened-in back porch. We get a tremendous thrill when the newly-emerged females bring as many as 40 eligible bachelors swarming about the screens in the late June twilight.

Hanging in the fence-row tangles were several clusters of the fat blue-black fruits of the moonseed vine. I crushed one in my fingers and found it pulpy and full of purplish juice. Apparently the birds don't care for this fruit.

The familiar scolding drew me across to a neighboring bit of pastureland, where nine robins were running about, picking up some sort of sustenance in the brown sod. They were a boisterous lot, apparently satisfied that the worst of the winter is over. Let's hope they are right.

Legislation Is Aimed At Protecting State Forests

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15—Legislation aimed at improving and protecting the forest lands which blanket more than half of Pennsylvania is being drafted today with strong support for its approval by the General Assembly.

It is aimed at enhancing reforestation and minimizing the threat of forest fires via state-supervised timber cutting schedules and is endorsed by the Department of Forests and Waters.

Tagged the "Forest Practices Act," the proposal would give the department authority over timber cutting on private tracts as well as public preserves.

The proposal, supported by the Commission on Interstate Cooperation and the State Forestry Association, is in the hands of O. Ben Gipple, director of the Forests Bureau.

Would Extend Power

The effect would be to extend the department's power from 1,724,000 acres of public lands to private tracts embracing another 13,404,000 acres. The total area of the state is 28,692,000 acres.

The problem of enforcement, which in the past has blocked passage of similar proposals may be solved on the line drawn by Senate Mines Committee Chairman F. Montgomery Crowe R) Monroe.

He proposes a provision to force contract timberers to post performance bonds to guarantee seedling planting after selected timber has been cut.

The proposal stems from the bituminous coal stripping act which carries a similar provision and allows for bond forfeiture if reclamation is not accomplished at the completion of a project.

Eliminate Improper Cutting

The legislation, according to Crowe, would "eliminate improper cutting and encourage reforestation while preventing the removal of large numbers of trees from watersheds."

Denuded timberland, he explains, allows rapid runoff of rain and opens the gates to floods which is the beginning of soil erosion and the depletion of water supplies.

It is doubtful whether local control boards, which sparked vigorous objections during the 1949 session, will be proposed in the legislation being whipped together by Gipple.

The program for cooperating owners would be under the supervision of District Forest Practice Boards with authority to fix certain standards for cooperating owners.

On Books in Other States

Similar legislation has been placed on the statute books of New York, Maine, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Wisconsin.

Gipple is harassed by knowledge that the Forest Reserve Act of more than a decade ago was branded unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court on an appeal by a central Pennsylvania coal firm.

Under the provisions of the outlawed act of assembly, landowners could declared forest lands on their properties "auxiliary reserves" with assessments limited to $1 an acre. Taxes were abated until each timber harvest when they were collected at the rate of 10 per cent. The appellate court ruled the act discriminated against non-cooperating owners.

The established constitutionality of the bituminous coal stripping act, Crowe believes, will give substance to the forest practices proposal.

Fuel Tax Funds To Be Distributed

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Distribution of the quarterly payment of fuel tax refunds will begin February 16 for cities, boroughs and townships that have established eligibility.

The state highways department announced that $2,051,667 will be distributed to 45 cities, 691 boroughs, 44 first class townships and 1120 second class townships. The balance of the $2,500,000 allocation set up for distribution will be withheld from five cities, 250 boroughs, 16 first class townships and 348 second class townships which failed to file required reports. The money will be made available after reports have been filed.

Gunman Is Slain After Killing Man, Wounding Second

WALLACE, Idaho, Feb. 15.—(INS)—A gunman shot one man to death, wounded another, barricaded himself in a Wallace, Ida., hardware store Wednesday and fired at besieging police before being mortally wounded.

Police identified the slain man as Gordon Hailstone, 33, a miner at the Sunshine Silver mine, and the dead gunman as John Stoddard, 48, of Oakland, Cal. Hailstone was a resident of Butte, Mont.

Police said Stoddard shot Hailstone to death, wounded Willis Maitland, 49, and turned the store into a fortress. He kept up a blazing fire from his .45 with ammunition in the store until he himself was fatally wounded.

Broke Into Store

Night patrolman Tom Stephenson said Stoddard, an occasional cafeteria worker, apparently broke into the hardware store and began shooting when Hailstone surprised him.

Stephenson said he and Patrolman Tracey Dawson were called when a couple walked by the store and found the window smashed. By the time the policemen arrived Hailstone had been shot and was lying, mortally wounded, on the sidewalk in front of the store.

When the policemen returned they found Maitland lying on the sidewalk in front of the store, took up posts across the street and opened fire into the store.

When the gun battle began Maitland dragged himself off the sidewalk and disappeared, Stephenson said.

Idaho state police arrived, meanwhile, and lobbed tear gas into the rear of the store.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Gov. John S. Fine announced today that deputy property and supplies secretary William A. Sponsler has been granted a 60-day leave of absence at the request of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Fine said Sponsler has been asked to serve as physical advisor for the agency.

Quiz Man About Disappearance Of Wife Nearly Year Ago

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—(INS)—A 53-year-old Factoryville, Pa., man i. jailed in Los Angeles today on forgery charges and officials said they intend to question him about the mysterious disappearance of his wife.

Entering into the case is "Mickey," his wife's pet cat.

The fugitive husband, Charles Homeyer, was arrested at a motel in suburban Duarte and taken to the county jail where he waived extradition.

Sheriff James Wynd and his deputy, R. J. Letter, flew to Los Angeles from Pennsylvania to take Homeyer into custody.

They said Homeyer's 67-year-old wife, Anna, disappeared from their Factoryville home February 25, 1950, but that Homeyer later wrote a friend that his wife was in California with him.

The officers said Homeyer later returned to Factoryville and sold their home by allegedly forging his wife's name to a deed. Neighbors noted, however, that Mrs. Homeyer's pet cat, Mickey, had been left behind and became suspicious.

Sheriff Wynd said Homeyer then explained his wife had died and been buried in a Brooklyn cemetery but that detectives could find no death certificate and were unable to find Mrs. Homeyer's remains in the cemetery named by the husband.

MAY REQUIRE MUDGUARDS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Mud-spattered windshields may be a thing of the past in Pennsylvania.

Rep. Raymond E. Wilt (R) Allegheny, submitted a bill in the house calling for a $10 fine or five days in jail for any operator not equipping a commercial vehicle with mudguards or spray deflectors over the rear wheels.

Better Civilian Diets Expected

Civilians To Eat Better This Year Than During 1950

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department expects civilians to eat better during the first year of mobilization than they did in 1950—fifth year of peace following World War II.

The department's prediction for better civilian diets comes with price controls already in effect on many major food items and despite the possibility of rationing later on in the year.

The economic stabilization agency is working to iron our wrinkles in the current price control picture to assure civilians enough meat at legal prices. Last week's controls on slaughter houses was one big step to make it difficult for black markets to pop up.

Civilians are expected to eat from one to three per cent more of the most nutritional foods than they did last year. The department says they will eat more meat, fluid milk and cream, ice cream, fresh fruits, canned fruit juices, frozen fruits and fruit juices and fresh and processed vegetables.

The department points out that from the peak year of 1946 and on into 1949 a downward movement took place in the supplies of major nutrients available. In 1950 this downward trend was reversed.

DON'T PLOW GRASSLANDS

A top Agriculture Department forage expert warns farmers not to plow up good grasslands because of the international crisis.

Dr. W. M. Myers, head of forage crop research, says that grass lands are needed during the emergency. He declared:

"Not only must we carry on with a grasslands program during the emergency, but we must push grasslands agriculture with increased vigor.

"Without improved grasslands the nation will have less total food, and diets will include less meat, milk, butter and cheese."

He defines grasslands farming as a system based on wise use of grasses and legumes in the cropping scheme, and in permanent pastures, to protect the soil and to give profitable and sustained food production.

There are almost one billion acres of permanent grasslands in the U.S.—mostly improved. Farmers, Myers says, can double or triple production on hundreds of million of acres through liming, fertilization, reseeding with more productive grasses and legumes, and good management.

Rainmaker Will Be Out Of Job In New York City Soon

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—"It ain't gonna rain no mo'" in New York at city expense.

A one-year cloud seeding contract with Dr. Wallace E. Howell expires next Tuesday and it was learned the city does not plan to renew it.

The reservoirs are now overflowing. Dr. Howell, who was paid $100 for every day he worked, said "at least some" of the water was due to his efforts.

The Dominion of Canada is almost as broad as it is long.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—It's leather belts for spring—whether the dress be graceful lace or sturdy denim.

When accessories-makers decided this was to be the biggest accessory spring in many years, they also agreed to capitalize on the unusual in belts. Therefore, they're promoting patent and grained leather belts to be worn with every conceivable (or unlikely) fabric combination.

Most of 1951's belts are purely tailored, in spite of the fact they're worn over the frothiest of afternoon or evening dresses.

Lilly Dache shows a two-inch severely causal black patent belt, for instance, around the waist of a billowing organza formal. Another designer features a strapless beige lace frock with a narrow pigskin waist-circler.

Few of the new belts are wider than one inch. And the half-inch belt is returning to popularity by leaps and narrow bounds.

'Conjuring Up Another War' Is Charge Made

By GLENN M. GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—House Democrats and Republicans tangled Wednesday in heated foreign policy debate spiced by charges that the Truman administration is "conjuring up another war'" and GOP leaders are jealous of Gen. Eisenhower.

Rep. Lawrence Smith (R) Wis., opening "grass roots" Republican arguments, declared that "government propaganda is beating the war drums again as it did in 1917 and 1939."

Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts, countered by charging that unnamed Republican chiefs have criticized foreign policy decisions because they have presidental ambitions. Gen. Eisenhower has been mentioned as a possible presidential candidate.

McCormack castigated the Republicans generally for a "defeatist attitude" and advocating "retreat" from international leadership. He declared:

"The sad thing today is to see, not in this body I'm glad to say . . . but elsewhere, some men with presidential ambitions, who are jealous toward such men as Gen. Eisenhower because they fear he might be nominated by the Republican convention as a candidate for president in 1952."

There never was a rat, mouse or termite that could gnaw or nibble its way through a Concrete Masonry wall!

Termites do an estimated damage of $45,000,000 a year to buildings in the U. S.— none of it concrete. Germ bearing rats and mice destroy or pollute everything they touch once they get inside — but they can't get through concrete.

Time and the elements weaken resistance of non-rodent proof building materials, and then vermin will get in. Vibrapac Concrete Masonry resists these pests forever. Concrete grows stronger — not weaker — with age. This also means greater resistance to wind and weather, sun and storm, frost and fire.

Vows were exchanged before a candlelit altar with white and peach gladiolus and ferns as a background. The double ring service was used. Miss Dorothy Gabrielick is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gabrielick of Duquesne and Mr. Sikora is the son of Mrs. John Sikora and the late John Sikora of Pulaski, R.D.

Miss Joan Gabrielick who was attired in a gown of lime green satin served her sister as maid of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet. Miss Cecilia Shimkus who wore yellow satin served as bridesmaid. She too carried a colonial bouquet. The bride was attired in a beautiful white satin gown with a bonnet fingertip veil of net held in place with tiny pearl blossoms. Her white satin gloves also had tiny pearl fingertips. Her bouquet was of white carnations and lily of the valley on a mother of pearl prayer book. Brotherhood Is Kiwanis Theme

Clergy Expounds Need For More Brotherhood

In connection with the annual observance of Brotherhood Week by Kiwanis International, three members of the clergy who are members of the local club, all of different faiths, gave their ideas of brotherhood at the weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton Wednesday noon.

Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancelewski, pastor of SS. Philip and James church as the first speaker, expressed the need for more individual tolerance on the part of everyone. He felt that the church in any community should be a community asset and helpful to all, rather than to just those of its own particular faith.

In closing his talk, he stated that we should be brothers, day in and day out, at work or at play.

Brotherhood Is For All

Dr. Iwan J. Gruen, spiritual leader of Temple Israel stated that it seems that mankind in general looks to the clergy to exemplify brotherhood, when all should participate.

It is noted in the very first chapter of the Bible that God created man in His own image, and that all are equal before Him. Only man makes any differentiation.

Good only happens because God is in the world, and bad happens when He is excluded. Peace can only come from Him, and there will be no peace until brotherhood becomes a religious requirement among men, because it is man who makes the world what it is.

Dr. A. Culmer Schultz, pastor of First Methodist church, stated that if we wanted to carry out the principles of brotherhood we could because we have the brains and ability to do it, but he stated that most Christians do a lot of talking about brotherhood but fail to practice it.

He called attention to many inequalities which exist in our own country today, particularly in regard to members of races other than our own. Given an opportunity, many of these people outshine us.

We talk about brotherhood one week in the year, he stated in conclusion, and neglect it the rest of the year. It is something we should do every week in the year.

Special guests at Wednesday's meeting included Envoy Robert Marshall, new officer in charge of the Salvation Army, and Dr. Will Gordon, interim pastor of the First Baptist church.

HELD AFTER HEARING

Raymond H. Langford, Jr., Miller avenue, R. D. 2, charged by police with indecent exposure, pleaded guilty before Alderman J. C. Brice yesterday and in default of bail was committed to the county jail. He was arrested by city police early Wednesday morning.

State Seeks Damages For Fire Destroyed State-Owned Forests

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. — (INS)—The commonwealth sought more than $3,000 in damages today from a Philadelphia road building firm for a 14-day forest fire which destroyed 100 acres of state-owned woodlands in Cambria and Indiana counties.

Court action was filed for $3,382 against the C. J. Lagenfelder & Sons of Philadelphia. The suit charged company employes clearing brush in the area started the fire.

Chief Fire Warden H. B. Rowland filed the damage suit in behalf of the Department of Forests and Waters. The fire occurred in October, 1947.

The suit accuses the company of negligience in not providing proper fire protection when the workers were burning away brush near Cramer, in East Wheatfield township, Cambria county.

It also alleged the workers used fuel oil to kindle the fires.

Rowland's petition charged the commonwealth was forced to hire 283 laborers to help 15 fire wardens fight the blaze.

The Philadelphia firm, it added, has refused to reimburse the commonwealth.

SEED CATALOGS

"For growing in a garden too small for standard types, this is perfect." That is the sentence that caught our eye as we perused one of the several seed catalogs with which we have recently spent some of our spare minutes. Plant breeders, it seems, have finally succeeded in developing a golden bantam midget corn with three-foot stalks and five-inch ears. What is more, the ears do not develop all at the same time, but spread over a harvest period of considerable length.

Horticulturists and plant hybridizers continue to work their magic with chromosomes and infinite patience. For example, for the first time there is a seedless watermelon of refrigerator size developed by juggling chromosomes with the aid of a truly magic plant chemical known as colchicine. The plant treated with the chemical is crossed with a normal plant of the same variety, and the resulting offspring is seedless. It's as simple as all that.

Seed catalogs do seem to have a knack for making the growing of prize vegetables and flowers appear ridiculously easy. In one case, in describing an early hybrid sweet pepper, they actually warn not to plant too many of them for fear of swamping the grower with "fine, heavy lobed peppers!"

In one catalog the featured item is a giant tree tomato. Testimonials from growers everywhere testify as to the unusual qualities of what is cryptically indicated as the T-29. One enthusiastic grower declares that his vines were fourteen feet high, and that individual tomatoes weighed as much as three (yes, three) pounds. One slice of this remarkable fruit covered a salad plate from edge to edge.

The seed of a newly developed strain of "miracle" blue grass is now being sold by the ounce. The idea is to plant the 144,000 seeds (ounce) in rows. The resulting plants should be permitted to bear and then scatter their seeds. "It won't be long before you can start a lawn with the sod," it says. Each customer is limited to only eight ounces on this item.

"Don't think for a moment that vegetables monopolize the limelight. All of the catalogs announce a wealth of new flowers and specialities. There's a new salmon-pink hybrid petunia that resists breaking apart even in bad weather. This last should prove an innovation to most gardeners, since all of the petunias we ever planted had a tendency to fall apart and ruin the trim appearance of the rows or beds.

There are two toned snapdragons of such vivid combinations of colors as yellow-ruby, pink-rose, yellow-bronze, with many of the flowers oddly marked and streaked. The same combinations may be had in miniature types.

Of course, all of the old reliables are included and doubtlessly, just as popular as they ever were. Zinnias, marigolds, stocks, poppies, pansies, delphiniums, bush balsams, straw flowers, calendulas, asters, bachelor buttons and many, many more are shown and described.

Seed catalogs are an institution. We look forward to receiving them as eagerly as we watch for the first robin or the first crocus. Leisurely thumbing their colorful pages gives one the assurance that all is not wrong with this cockeyed planet. Soil has a certain permancy that gives one the feeling of stability. Gardening ties one to the soil, and the catalogs are largely responsible for giving many of us the incentive for that worthwhile activity.

GADGET-HAPPY

NEWTON, Mass. — (INS)—Nobody's more gadget-happy than the American smoke-eater — and for good reason! Aladdin's lamp has nothing on the modern devices that help speed fire fighters on their way. So say engineers of the Gamewell Company, who provide many of the gimmicks. The modern fire alarm box can send its signal despite a broken wire or other circuit disorders. When an alarm is pulled, it also can be rigged to turn on all the lights in the station, control traffic lights outside and open doors for the engines. A recording device transcribes all telephoned alarms to minimize possibilities of confusion about addresses. Loud speaker systems in central station and engine houses permit two-way high-level voice communication.

Churchill In New Attack

Demands Unseating Of Labor Government

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Feb. 15. — (INS) — Winston Churchill formally demanded today that the Labor government be unseated for alleged "vacillation and delay" in rearmament and warned that Great Britain may be the "bulls-eye" of Soviet aggression.

The Conservative leader's motion of non-confidence in Prime Minister Attlee was in the form of of an amendment to the government's three-year, $13 billion defense program.

Churchill said:

"By creating the American atomic base in East Anglia we have made ourselves the target and perhaps the bulls-eye of Soviet attack."

The wartime prime minister was referring to establishment of U. S. Air Force bases in the eastern part of England equipped to handle atom-bomb carrying planes.

This is the third time in the last eight days that Churchill has challenged the government and introduced a motion of censure.

Attlee won by slim margins in two previous confidence votes on nationalization of steel, which became effective today, and the handling of meat purchase and distribution.

The latest motion was regarded as a supreme bid by Churchill and the Conservatives to toss the Labor government out of office and force a new general election.

'Frozen Woman' Is Apparently On Way To Full Recovery

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Mrs. Dorothy Mae Stevens, who made medical history when she survived the deepest freeze on record, may not even need skin grafts to repair damage to her once-frozen limbs.

A spokesman at Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital said physicians' findings in the case of the 23-year-old Negro woman are so important she will be kept as a patient until lengthy tests are completed.

But medical specialists—who were amazed to find no traces of gangrene when they removed arm and leg bandages yesterday—agreed that Mrs. Stevens will "be as good as new and recover completely" from the night in sub-zero weather when her body temperature dropped to a record low 64 degrees.

The doctors said the woman's limbs bore only blisters, similar to second-degree burns, and the flesh under the blisters appeared healthy.

Other tests revealed a sudden disruption of normal kidney function. Specialists said this turn in her condition may be of the utmost importance to the understanding of frostbite cases.

Girl Whose Heart Stopped Beating Likely To Survive

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 15—(INS)—General hospital surgeons said today that chances for survival are "good" for a two-year-old girl whose heart stopped beating during an emergency appendectomy.

Dr. Joseph S. Bean, medical director, said the baby, Cleair Mitchell, was rushed to the hospital with a severely infected appendix late yesterday and taken to surgery immediately.

Near the end of the surgery, her heart suddenly stopped beating. The staff surgeon then made a two-inch chest incision and with his fingers kept the heart pulsating.

Reduced beating was restored after 30 minutes, and the operation was completed.

Five doctors and several nurses worked over the child throughout the night.

The child's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell of Indianapolis.

LOOKS LIKE HOAX

HAYWARD, Cal., Feb. 15—(INS)—A $437,500 legacy reportedly left to a Hayward auto painter by an elderly woman he had been kind to 11 years ago had all the earmarks of a hoax today.

The painter, Howard D. Rife, reported yesterday he had received a letter from a New York law firm telling him he had been left the money by a Mrs. Emma Rivers but a check in the east failed to turn up either the law firm or the estate.

After this information was passed to him Rife admitted:

"It certainly looks like a hoax."

FROZEN FISH

Progress in refrigeration and transportation has given consumers a wide choice of fish when fresh fish supplies are not so large. Fresh-frozen fish of all varieties are now available the year-round. At this time of year, you have a wider choice among frozen fish to meet the Lenten demands. Frozen haddock fillets are perhaps the leading item among frozen fish in the northeastern part of the country.

IMPROPER DIETING MAY CAUSE POOR HEALTH

Desire to be slim influences some girls and women to adopt dangerous practices with regard to food. Many dieters assume that the way to reduce is to leave out all fat, starches, sweets and foods they consider fattening. Such haphazard diets usually leave out some foods essential to body needs.

Recent studies show that the body needs extra protein while losing weight to maintain good health. This means one serving of meat fish or poultry each day. A lack of protein in the diet of teenage girls can affect their heatlh in later life.

Poor reducing diets are often lacking in minerals and vitamins. They help the body to function normally. A short supply may result in rough, dry skin, inflammation of the eyes, or skin disorders, as well as nervousness and irritability.

Milk is an essential food for the minerals and vitamins that it provides. It can be taken in the form of skim milk or cottage cheese when you are reducing. A citrus fruit or tomato every day and a small amount of fat, at least a tablespoon or two daily, are important. Green and yellow vegetables and raw fruits are excellent sources of vitamins and iron. They will be included daily in any good diet. If you are reducing, check your diet for these essentials.

Maintaining normal weight is good for health as well as for a good appearance. Do not destroy your health while you achieve a trim figure. Consult a physician if excess poundage is very great before you start any reducing program.

PLAN STORAGE TO FIT FAMILY NEEDS

When building a new house, families plan storage to suit their needs. Better storage in a house already built usually means remodeling.

Better storage requires planning and consideration of the family's needs. Attractiveness is as desirable as usefulness.

Before starting any storage plan, have a family get-together to talk over the needs and desires and to discuss ways of making the best use of the space. Consider places where articles may be stored most conveniently and look for storage spaces that are often wasted, like under stairways or slanting roofs.

Another item to discuss at the family get-together is the talent each member can contribute to the storage plan and what home-grown supplies are available. If all the storage problems cannot be settled at one time, probably a long-term plan would be the answer. Make a complete plan, then work toward doing the most important things first.

Declare Military Training 'Duty' Of All Citizens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Congress for the first time in the nation's history would declare that military training is the "duty" of all citizens under the administration's new draft bill.

This sweeping departure from the traditional American concept of reliance on a military force recruited and trained from civilian life in event of an emergency was disclosed by a study of the new bill.

The legislation, which would permit the drafting of 18-year-olds on a restricted basis until universal military training gets into full operation, is before the full Senate Armed Service Committee for action.

The concept that military training is the "duty" of all citizens was inserted in the bill by a subcommittee as a statement of policy. The provision said:

"Congress declares it is the duty of all citizens to engage in such training for civilian and military service as will prepare them for the assumption of their responsibilities as citizens of a free and democratic nation and provide a continuing flow of personnel recently trained in modern techniques and assure a vital ready reservoir to fill the military and civilian needs of the nation."

The bill contemplates a universal military training program to replace the draft when the international situation has eased. The restriction against induction of 18-year-olds would be removed when UMT goes into full swing.

In the meantime, 18-year-old youths would be inducted only when the pool of present draft eligibles is exhausted.

The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee, which approved the bill, said that "obviously there will be no clear cut ending of the one (draft) program and the beginning of the other (UMT program."

UMT inductees would be trained for not less than four months and would be enrolled in a National Security Training Corps.

New Draft Bill Nearly Ready

Favorable Senate Action Is Forecast

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Senate passage after a rugged floor fight appears in store for a bill to draft 18-year-olds, lengthen the service hitch to 26 months and eventually launch Universal Military Training.

The 13 to zero vote by which the bill sailed through the Senate armed services committee is considered a tip-off on its fate on the floor.

Senate armed services chairman Russell (D) Ga., said of the measure: "It is a very fine bill. I think Congress will pass it substantially as it is at present."

Chairman Johnson (D) Tex., of the subcommittee which wrote the bill, said he would not be surprised to see the Senate, after the fighting is over, give it unanimous backing. At least, he said, he will strive for such a vote.

Await Action On Troops

The bill is not scheduled to be called up for Senate debate until the upper chamber settles the troops-for-Europe issue.

Russell conceded that what is done about GI's for Europe will "have a direct effect on the manpower issue."

Safeguards written into the bill by the committee include one to prevent an enlistee or draftee of any age being sent into combat without at least four months' basic training.

However, the committee eliminated wording which would have required the training to be taken in this country.

In lowering the draft age from 19 to 18, the committee directed local boards to call up all available men 19 through 25 first, including non-veteran married men without children.

The committee adopted a resolution directing the defense department to formulate a comprehensive program for the reserves within 60 days of enactment of the bill.

Licensing System And Credit Controls Replace Freeze

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—The government's 30-day freeze on construction of office buildings and stores ended today and was replaced by a licensing system and credit controls.

At the same time, the National Production Authority disclosed more than 250 recreational projects banned under a previous order have been approved for "hardship" reasons.

NPA spokesmen also said:

1. The agency expects to issue a broad rubber control order next week banning certain non-defense products and prescribing specifications for auto tires and other articles.

2. Top officials plan to reveal later this week further details on new control orders designed to limit output of automobiles, refrigerators and other durable consumer goods.

NPA's 30-day freeze on new commercial construction was ordered to give the agency time to set-up a system requiring builders to obtain a federal license before starting the project.

Former Resident Of Eight States Picks Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15. — A drummer who has traveled professionally for many years, and has lived for a time in eight states, said recently that he and his family prefer Pennsylvania for a permanent home.

Currently appearing in a Williamsport establishment, he said he has seen more scenic beauty in Pennsylvania than in any of the other states in which he has lived or toured. "The people seem so friendly, too," he said.

He lauded the Pocono Mountins in northeastern Pennsylvania in particular, saving that whenever free time allows, he and his wife enjoy short vacations there.

36 LICENSES REVOKED

HARRISBURG—In the week ending January 19, the Bureau of Highway Safety withdrew the cards of 909 drivers. Of this number 36 were revoked and 873 suspended. Operating privileges were restored to 1289.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15.—Some time back Jerry Wald and Norman Krasna, the new producing team at RKO-Radio studio, wanted to know which city is the most romantic in all the land.

The city was to be used as the locale for "Strike A Match," described as being the definitive love story of our time.

The studio put out feelers in the 48 states and the Chambers of Commerce in scores of big and little cities were quick to grasp at the bait. Inspired letters extolling the merits of this and that city reached the studio.

Newark Backward

Only Newark, New Jersey, was backward about the whole thing. Newark officials felt that their city could not qualify in the "romantic city" department. The Newarks bigwigs insisted that their city had 'nothing to offer", had "an uninspired business section" and "looks too dingy".

Wald and Krasna hastily scratched Newark rom their list as their picture is about a small town gal who goes to a big city and falls in love. Her romance is blighted with tragedy but everything turn out all right in the end.

"Our first thought was Niagara Falls," declared Wald, "but that was a mistake. Couples in Niagara Falls are honeymooners and presumably madly in love before they get there."

Not Suitable

Krasna claimed that he was all for Dallas until he discovered that too many Dallas belles went to Fort Worth or El Paso to fall in love. Miami, what with its celebrated moon and swaying palms, also was considered by the bigwigs decided that the Florida City was too "resort-ish".

The huge American cities of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh also were considered but it was figured that while they were "great incubators for love, the mortality rate was too high".

They also investigated such likely places as Enterprise, Alabama; Kissimmee, Florida; Paradise, Pennsylvania, and Loveland, Colorado.

The latest decision is that the film either will be made in San Francisco or Charleston, S. C., Farley Granger and Ann Blyth are expected to be the lovers in the movie when it gets underway late next month.

Seek To Clarify Emergency Crop Needs On Farms

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(INS)—The Agriculture Department is sending "flying teams" of production specialists into the corn belt and spring wheat areas to clarify the nation's emergency crop needs.

A spokesmap for the department's production and marketing administration told International News Service that four "flying teams" of production experts will start in the next several days to talk to PMA officials in about 15 mid-western states.

Their purpose, the spokesman says, is to spell out to state officials just how recently-announced production guides for corn, spring wheat and other crops are to be handled.

The state officials in turn are expected to pass the information on to county officials, who will discuss it with the individual farmers.

The department official that the government feels it is not enough just to announce the production guides aiming toward "practicable" all-out production. He says farmers will need guidance on how the guides are to be applied.

TO INCREASE STOCKPILE

LONDON, Feb. 15—(INS)—The British Labor government disclosed today it is asking parliament to approve the spending of 355 million, 600 thousand dollars over the next six weeks to increase its stockpile of strategic materials.

The figure was given in supplementary budget estimates.

The detailed nature of the stockpiling was not shown, but an allotment of eight million, 400 thousand dollars was made for the food ministry.

HAVE A BEAN

There are so many kinds of beans that Butch cannot remember them all. There are kidney beans and green beans and snap beans and butter beans and lima beans and other kinds. Granddad says to not forget the has beens.

Different kinds of beans provide different amounts and kinds of nourishment.

Baked beans provide protein and carbohydrate and fat and also lots of calories. Green beans provide almost none of these things but lots of vitamins.

Mom tries to cook the beans that each one of her family needs. She tries to cut down on the baked beans for Dad so as to keep his weight about right. Susy is a little thin so Mom tries to add a little more fat to her beans.

When it comes to beans all Butch wants is enough, whether they are green or white or red.

Rejects Appeals To Save Seven Nazis From Execution

FRANKFURT, Feb. 15. — (INS) —U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy rejected on Wednesday an appeal from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to postpone the execution of seven condemned Nazi war criminals.

Adenauer told McCloy there were "certain ambiguities" in the cases of the men held in Landsberg prison and asked for a further review.

McCloy replied "that all points have been considered and no change in my decision is justified."

He also made public a letter written to a protestant bishop who had appealed for clemency for the men convicted of responsibility in the killing of more than 1,000,000 persons.

"There was no military need," McCloy told the bishop, "to butcher Jews and Gypsies and kill 100 hostages for one German".

The date of the executions has not been disclosed.

Several local citizens in the city of Kassel meanwhile were reported to have volunteered to go to the gallows in place of the condemned men.

About 300,000 Americans are engaged in the retail selling of shoes.

Sees No Reason To Fear Russia

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., insists today that he sees "no reason to fear Russia".

He told the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Philadelpia that he believes Rusria "is far weaker than is generally supposed."

"Russia," he said, "is suffering from great internal unrest. I see no reason to fear anything about the present situation—although it is obvious we must take certain precautions."

Gas Station Man's Aches and Pains Leave Completely After First 3 Bottles Of Hadacol
Father helped, too, who also had deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin.
Wesley Scallions, energetic young gas station attendant in Peoria, Illinois, tells how HADACOL keeps him on the job. Wesley Scallions has this to report:
"I took HADACOL upon the advice of my father who has taken it regularly for some time. He could not eat, was unable to get around, lost sleep and was generally run-down because he had these deficiencies. My brother who is a doctor recommended HADACOL to Dad. Since taking HADACOL, Dad has been feeling like a different man; he now has a hearty appetite, sleeps well and gets around once again on his own.
"I have had pains in my right arm and legs due to these deficiencies. I lost many days of work until I started to take HADACOL. After my first three bottles the pains left me completely and now I work every day without having any pains. I am a gas attendant and need full use of both arms and legs in my line of work. Thanks to HADACOL I can now perform my job satisfactorily and feel fine."

That's the kind of product you've been wanting—the kind you should buy and start taking at once.
Many doctors recommend HADACOL. It is also wonderful for stomach disturbances (gas pains, indigestion, bloating, heartburn) and a general nervous run-down condition when due to such deficiencies.
Be fair to yourself! If you have such deficiencies — why go around feeling half-alive—a burden to others when you can get this great HADACOL at Rand's. Remember—HADACOL must help you or your money back. Trial-size bottle, only $1.19. Large family or hospital size, $3.39.
Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief
Don't be satisfied with symptomatic relief — HADACOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of those cruel nagging aches and pains when due to lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin in the system.
AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous, complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning.

French Ambassador Says France Strong For United Europe

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 — (INS)—French ambassador to the U. S. Henri Bonnet offered reassurance today that his country "is devoted to the cause of a Western United Europe."

He told the Alliance Francaise of Philadelphia that Frenchmen are "convinced that Europe can be strong only if it is united."

"They want a unified trade market," Bonnet said, "instead of a mosaic of states. That is the purpose of the Schuman plan (to pool French and German coal and steel production).

"By wiping out trade barriers it would put an end to feuds between the nations of Western Europe."

Pooling of French and German coal and steel production, the French ambassador said, "Could be the beginning of a United Europe."

Bonnet asserted that France is "moving rapidly" to strengthen her army in the conviction rearmament of Western Europe "will make it easier" for Atlantic Pact Nations to maintain peace.

Bonnet said Communism is "losing ground" in France "because of the Frenchman's fanatical devotion to individual liberty."

"The Frenchman is not a cog in a machine," he declared. "That concept is completely contrary to the Frenchman's convictions. That is why Communism will never flourish there."

Song books containing hymns in English and Korean have been distributed in Korea by the U. S. Army to American and Korean Christian soldiers.

LIGHTER LOAD

NEW YORK—(INS)— The paper milk container was credited today with lifting a 10 billion pound burden from the arms of the nation's home makers. The American Can Company, announcing that 1950 industry production of the lightweight containers is estimated at a record 6,500,000,000 units, said one result is a lighter burden for housewives carrying milk supplies home from food stores.

SALEM, Ore. — (INS) — When policemen are stopped for speeding they give the same old answers. A Salem patrolman recently halted a state policeman after clocking him at 55 miles an hour. "Your speedometer must be wrong," said the state officer. "I was only doing 40." So the policeman let the policeman off with a warning and asked the city mechanics to check his speedometer and see who was right. He was.

URGES COALITION

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Sen. Mundt of South Dakota says the Republicans and southern Democrats should form a coalition in the next presidential election to halt the trend toward socialism.

The Republican told the Union League club:

"The two groups think alike, act alike and vote alike. Together they have a majority in congress. A majority of the people are behind them."

Sugar Ray Robinson New Middleweight Champion Of The World

Referee Stops Bout In 13th To Rescue Battered LaMotta

By KEN OPSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Wrfter)

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Newly-crowned middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson hopes to become the first boxer in the history of the sport to win four titles.

The Harlem Dandy ascended the 160-pound throne last night by scoring a 13th round technical knockout over Jake LaMotta at the Chicago Stadium and then wondered just how tough light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim and heavyweight king Ezzard Charles would be.

LaMotta Tough Guy

Gainford said Maxim will be challenged after LaMotta gets his return bout. That is something which Jake may not want.

The pay was good last night since his 45 per cent of the net gate receipts amounted to $65,522. The hours weren't long since he was in the ring only a total of 50 minutes and four seconds. But the work was hard.

Two black eyes, a cut under the left one, a gashed lip and a bashed and bloody nose bore testimony to this. He whispered after taking oxygen that he was "going to take a long rest" before fighting again. There were tears in his eyes when he said:

"I did my best but it wasn't good enough. Not good enough to beat Ray."

Jake said nothing about a return match.

Donates $25,000

Robinson admitted that he was hurt by one of LaMotta's left hooks "in an early round" and suffered a lacerated lip. Robinson wasn't too tired to tell radio listeners and television viewers, however, that he was presenting a $25,000 check—his share from a recent fight with Charlie Fusari—to the Damon Runyon Memorial Cancer Fund.

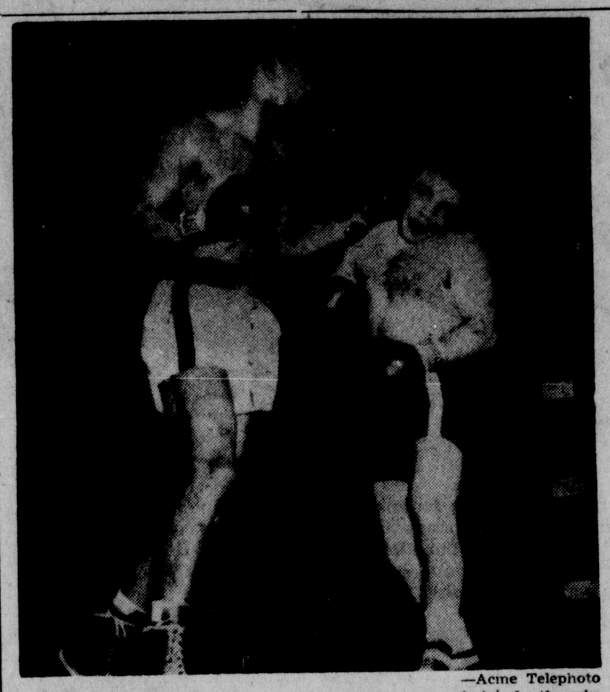

He received $20,840 of the net profits of $138,938 last night. A crowd of 14,802 fans paid a gross gate of $180,619 to witness the sixth fight between LaMotta and Robinson.

Jake was at least even on most everybody's score card after six gruelling rounds.

Stone Age Scrap

LaMotta looked like a throwback to the Stone Age in the early rounds as he continually plodded forward in the face of Robinson's rhythmic jabs. These lefts took their toll in Jake's strength. He was no longer able to bore in close to his sleek tormentor after the eighth round. For all practical purposes his title was gone then.

Robinson speared him with lefts from long range and walloped him with looping rights. Jake was simply a human punching bag in the 12th round. Stili, he wouldn't go down. But Referee Frank Sikora finally came to the merciful rescue and halted the fight at 2:04 of the 13th.

—Acme Telephoto

—Acme Telephoto

THE FINSH: Referee Frank Sikora stops the fight in the 13th round as Ray Robinson's hand is raised in victory. Beaten Jake LaMotta stumbles back to the ropes.

Farrell, Aliquippa In Kingpin Contest At Valley Friday

Farrell (19-1) and Aliquippa (18-1), basketball giants in Pennsylvania high school circles, come together for the second time this season at Aliquippa Friday night.

Farrell, undefeated in league play for 22 consecutive games, will enter the game owning 10 section victories while Aliquippa, defeated only at Farrell, puts up a nine and one record for recognition.

The Steeler team was beaten in pre-league play by Johnstown Catholic 34-31 in a tournament game at Johnstown. Since then the Mercer county squad has pieced together 12 wins in succession.

Sharon entertains Ellwood and Beaver Falls, Ambridge in other section games. New Castle is idle.

Deadline for entries into the tournament has been set at Monday, February 19. According to reports from tournament officials teams are slow in entering and are urged to sign up as soon as possible.

ELKS TO BOWL SUNDAY

Dick Morgan, chairman of the Elks club bowling league, has announced that the regular Tuesday and Thursday night bowlers of duckpins will bowl Sunday at the Neshannock bowling alleys at 2 o'clock.

Three Dodgers Still Unsigned

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Pitcher Preacher Roe and infielders Billy Cox and Eddie Miksis are the only three members of the Brooklyn Dodgers who have failed to come to terms for the 1951 season.

The Dodger fold swelled to 37 yesterday with the signing of outfielders Gene Hermanski and Don Thompson and pitcher Phil Haugstad.

Alliance Bowling Team Here Saturday

The match is scheduled at 7 o'clock.

Hanks Seek Clean Sweep Over Pulaskis Tonight

Tonight at the Y.M.C.A., local basketball fans will witness one of the best grudge battles of the season as the undefeated Hank A.A. lock horns with the revenge-minded K. Pulaski Big Five in the second of a best out of three series. This tilt will begin at 9.

The Hanks, sporting a record of 13 wins and no losses will be up against one of their toughest contenders this year as the K.P.'s will be going all-out to avenge the 86-72 trouncing handed them by the Hanks last Saturday.

Seek Clean Sweep

On the other hand, the Hanks will be out to keep their spotless record intact and at the same time make it a clean sweep over the highly-determined Pulaski quintet. The Hank players, who played their hearts out in the first game will want more than ever to win this one for Coach Al Gonet, who as former K.P. coach would like nothing better than to hang up a double win over his former charges, and being that this will be the final local appearance for the Hanks, they would also like to end up on a winning note.

The Hanks should be a slight favorite for this encounter due to the fact that they have already beaten the K.P. and also because the Y will be more of a home court for them and this should prove an important factor.

Large Crowd Indicated

The Hanks, in winning 13 straight games, are out to even up or if possible, better their last year's record of 19 straight wins before being upset by the strong Beaver Falls Legion.

Coach Al Gonet will use his same lineup as usual with Janacone and Nevotne at forwards, Buck Kerr at center and Wayne Gray and Bennet at the guard positions. The K.P. lineup is still in doubt and it is anybody's guess who is likely to be in the lineup by game time.

Coach Gonet will also have on hand such capable reserves as Cialella, Walford, Plonka, and Zubkowsky.

Interest in this game is intense and all indications point to a full house.

COLUMBIA TOPS YALE

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Columbia University, the nation's only major undefeated college basketball team, roared to its 16th straight triumph last night with a 79-49 victory over hopelessly outclassed Yale.

SEBASTIAN AT AMBRIDGE

Barons, Bisons Have Safe Leads

Hershey Whips Hornets, 3 To 2

(By International News Service)

With the leaders in both divisions of the American Hockey League well out of sight, the big question right now is—who will wind up in the basement?

The Cleveland Barons dominate the western division while the Buffalo Bisons hold a strangle hold on top spot in the east.

But, the big battle in both sectors is to stay out of the cellar and grab a berth for the playoffs next month.

Hershey Tops Hornets

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati are just one-half game ahead of last place St. Louis in the west while Providence and Springfield are deadlocked at the bottom of the eastern division.

Indianapolis scored five goals in the final period to whip Cincinnati, 9-4, last night and Hershey trimmed Pittsburgh, 3-2, for the Hornets' fifth defeat in a row.

In overtime games, Buffalo tied St. Louis, 3-3, and Springfield shaded Providence, 5-4.

Tonight Buffalo goes to Springfield and Hershey to Indianapolis.

County Junior High Teams Play Friday

Mahoning plays host to Benjamin Franklin junior high school Friday afternoon in an intra-city Section 16 basketball game. In other league games George Washington travels to Farrell and Union to Sharon.

Farrell's Little Steelers downed Mahoning 30-23 Wednesday afternoon at Farrell in the playoff of a postponed section game.

Some will go to the Game commission, others to the Fish commission and also to the Department of Forests and Waters. No doubt some recommendations will be made to the legislature for changes in the fish and game laws. . . . Joe Louis earned more money than Jack Dempsey and Jacques earned more than Gene Tunney. However, in the days of Dempsey and Tunney they did not have to "kick back" to Uncle Sam as much as Joe Louis. . . . Sugar Ray Robinson has scored about 70 knockouts.

Bessemer Plays At Wampum Friday In Section 23 Headliner

Bessemer travels to Wampum Friday night in Section 23 in an effort to keep its mathematical chances for the section title alive.

The Cementers trail the Indians by two games with only two games remaining to play in the league—making a win at Wampum Friday night a must if they want to stay in the running. If the Cementers win Friday they still need a win next Tuesday over Mt. Jackson, coupled with a loss by Wampum at New Wilmington, to tie for the section crown.

Bessemer's loss to Union Tuesday night took something of the edge off of the game, which had been building up throughout the season. Wampum is now overwhelming favorite to cop the section toga.

Other games throughout the section find Mt. Jackson at East Brook and New Wilmington at Shenango. All three games will mark the final home appearances of the host teams.

A battle for third place will be raging at East Brook and Shenango. All of these four teams, with the exception of Mt. Jackson, have a chance to finish third in the league standing.

Union, which is idle Friday, also is very much in the running for third.

Pitzer Still Leads

Dick Pitzer of Union continues to lead the league in scoring, and unless one of his closest rivals goes on a real scoring spree looks like the champ for the season.

John McMillin of Wampum moved from eighth to fourth in scoring during the past week by way of his 41 points last Friday night. Teammate Caesar Craine has also advanced from fifth to third, while Walt McGinnis of New Wilmington continues to hold down the number two spot.

Branch Rickey is a man of many facets—all turned on. He's colorful (the understatement of the week). He's unpredictable. He gives the impression of being unbelievably capable, efficient, intelligent and three steps ahead of almost anybody else.

Thrilling Finish At Washington, Pa.

Westminster college's Titans dropped a thrilling, down-to-the-wire finish, 78-75, at Washington (Pa.) high school last night, to high-flying W. & J.

It was a tight finish. Don Meyers scored on a long set shot with 20 seconds remaining, to pull the Titans to within one point of the victors. But the Prexies waived two foul throws to hold on to the ball. Andy Mestrovic scored on a layup attempt as the game ended to account for a three-point margin

Titans Lead Twice

Westminster led in the contest on just two occasions. The Titans came back strong after trailing 44-37 at intermission. After W. & J.'s Joe Richards scored on a foul throw Westminster spurted with five straight field goals, to tie it at 45-45 and move ahead 47-45. Mestrovic scored to tie it again 47-47.

Except for that brief flourish W. & J. led throughout. However it was tied at 8-8, 9-9, and 58-58 elsewhere in the evening.

13 For Prexies

The Prexies went after their 13th success in a hurry. They've lost only once, at Waynesburg college. Richards led the way as W. & J. grabbed a 20 to 12 first quarter lead. Jerry Hyder was keeping Mestrovic, the Prexie star, in check then, as he did throughout the first half. Washington-Jefferson held on in the ding-dong second stanza, as the Titans picked up one point, outscoring the home club 25-24 in that stretch.

Westminster added another point and crept within six points after three quarters. Johnny Abraham went on a scoring spree all his own then with three buckets and four charity tosses. But Mestrovic began to show his scoring talent too. He scored 12 points in the fast third period, mostly on a twisting jump shot from inside the pivot.

Both teams lost their starting centers as the final period got underway. Bill Tokar, the big Washington-Jefferson center, fouled out in the closing seconds of the third quarter. Pat King was waived out on personals with 6:05 remaining, and was replaced with the injured Jerry Sybert.

Four Players Chased

Then the Titans began their final bid. They trailed by six when King left. Halas fired for two points to pull the Westminster five to 68-73. A foul throw moved it to 68-74 before Meyers tallied on a one-handed toss. Abraham then drove in to score and Westminster was behind by two, 72-74. Mestrovic hit again and the Prexies led, 76-72, with 2:30 left. Abraham's foul throw changed it to 76-73 at 2:15 and set the stage for the set shot by Meyers.

All in all, four players were banished via the personal foul route. Frank Chan, Washington-Jefferson's little guard, fouled out in the final, after scoring eight points. Meyers was charged with his fifth personal as he tried to break up the Prexies' freeze tactics in the last two minutes.

Play Thiel Friday

The game was the second of four the Titans must play this week. Friday night Westminster will be at Thiel college, at Greenville. Then Saturday night the Titans come to their New Wilmington floor, opposing the strong Waynesburg college Jackets.

Beginning next week the Hanks will begin playing in several district tournaments, the first of which will be the Cortland, O., Lions Club Tourney. Last year the Hanks went to the quarter finals in this tourney before losing out to Southington, O.

The Hanks will also enter the Hubbard I.O.O.F. Tournament and the East Liverpool Tourney. As was stated by Coach Al Gonet, "The Hanks will not enter the local Optimist Tournament because of the conflict with the Courtland Tournament.

Knickerbockers Defeat Royals

The New York Knickerbockers beat the Rochester Royals last night, 81-65 and took over first place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Association.

Max Zaslofsky of the Knicks led the scoring parade with 17 points although four of his team-mates hit for double figures. Jack Coleman was high man for the losers, with 11 points.

In other games last night Tri-Cities beat Indianapolis, 98-91, Minneapolis crushed Baltimore 99-71, and Fort Wayne took a close one from Syracuse, 77-75.

Rangers Defeat Blackhawks, 5-1

The New York Rangers moved into a three-way tie for third place in the National Hockey League last night as they beat the Chicago Blackhawks, 5-1.

The Rangers scored with little difficulty and held the cellar-dwelling Blackhawks scoreless until the third period when Steve Black scored Chicago's lone goal.

Amusement Tax May Bring City $50,000 During Year

Basing his opinion on amusement tax returns for the January 20-31 period, already submitted to the city income tax division, Lewis A. McClung today stated that $50,000 may be realized this year.

When the amusement tax was imposed to meet a need for more wages by city employes, it was estimated by finance director A. A. Hoyland that it would raise a revenue of approximately $60,000.

Mr. McClung stated that attendance during summer time in motion picture houses may drop below the January level, and this, he indicated might cause a change in the tax picture.

At present a tax of 10 per cent is charged on all tickets to amusement places.

Expect British Election To Give Idea Of Trend

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(INS)—Political leaders awaited anxiously today the result of a special parliamentary election for an indication of how Britons themselves actually feel about the nation's 13-billion dollar rearmament program.

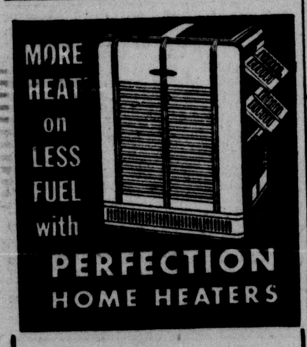

The outcome of the West Bristol election to fill a vacant house of commons seat is considered a foregone conclusion. Heretofore it has been a "safe" seat for the Conservatives.

But the Labor candidate, Harold Lawrence, appealed for votes on the basis that he is a Pacifist and opposed rearment. This attitude caused Prime Attlee to withhold the usual letter of support accorded Labor candidates.

P. O. W. SHOWS STRAIN OF WAR

CLAIMS THIS IS 'FLYING SAUCER'

ANOTHER SOLUTION to the flying saucer mystery comes from Dr. Urner Liddel, Office of Naval Research, who says they are "part of a basic program of the government aimed at harnessing the energy from decomposition of the atmosphere." Dr. Liddel says a flying saucer is actually the base of a huge balloon 100 feet in diameter called a skyhook. Delicate instruments on the balloons are aimed at discovering the secrets of the cosmos where the atmosphere reaches the vanishing point. This first published photo of a skyhook balloon 77,000 feet over Minneapolis, Min., was made through a refracting telescope, and to Dr. Liddel it is the first visual confirmation of his explanation for the saucers. Look magazine photo. (International)

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

UNDERWRITING PATIENCE

Children do like to take their time! But it's not always easy for busy parents to let them do it! And so one sees—and hears—many a household scene in which reluctant youngsters are being pushed by impatient mothers or dads.

Mrs. Trask discovered one way of meeting this situation. Her three-year-old Helen loves to play in the bathtub. It used to be a tough struggle between the two of them. Now Mrs. Trask takes some mending or peas to be shelled or some other household task that can be done in the bathroom as well as elsewhere and lets Helen have her full of bathing.

When children are learning to dress or to eat with grown-up utensils, when they are putting toys away, they are likely to go at things more slowly than we would like to have them. Yet, they usually need time. And it isn't good for them to be pushed by a "Hurry up!" or a "Let me do it for you."

Mrs. Trask's idea has possibilities. Almost any one of us as parents can find things to do that will take the edge off our impatience and thus permit our youngsters to learn how to do things for themselves.

State Auto Drivers Under Close Study

HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—(INS)—State Revenue Secretary Otto P. Messner today said examination of "case histories" of certain Pennsylvania motorists saves many lives.

"I don't believe it is generally known," Messner said, "that the driving careers of our nearly four million autoists are kept under pretty close scrutiny.

"Illnesses, injuries, delinquencies—anything which bears upon their capability at the wheel—are watched constantly and adjudged from the standpoint of safety for everyone. Unquestionably, the system has contributed greatly to the state's good traffic safety record."

He reported potentially dangerous drivers, among them epileptics, diabetics, alcoholics and sufferers from heart trouble, all are subject to special investigation, after which they are permitted to operate only if State Police and various authorities recommend it.
